In discussions I had with both Hiscox's counsel Ted Gerdes, as well as AON's Stephen Carroll, we specifically reviewed the 2011 lawsuit and the personal service contract obtained in 2013 when considering how to answer the question. Thus, the answer was discussed and deliberated with both the carrier and the broker.

Because of the 2013 discovery of the personal service contract, AON/Hiscox vetted the contract and when the question came up, everyone was aware of the prior issues and they were satisfied with the enforceability of the personal service contract, which was evinced in the answer.
Coinciding with the time of Hiscox's exclusion of Aretha Franklin in 2015, I made a deal with Ms. Franklin's counsel that would nullify any issues. Because of this deal, I did not fight Hiscox.
However, after more than 15 months of negotiations, Ms. Franklin has declined two fully negotiated contracts that were approved and generated by and with her counsel. Both offers were OVER and above what Ms. Franklin and her counsel asked for. Ms. Franklin has since fired her counsel and I have no hope that she will accept any offer. Because Ms. Franklin refuses to negotiate any further, this leaves me no other option but to reopen the case in Denver.
The fundamental and virtually singular reason for my Hiscox insurance was because of Ms. Franklin's volatility. Insurance would allow me to defend and enforce Ms. Franklin's contract, which was recently discovered (in 2013) by Warner Films. Hiscox directed me to discuss these matters with Ted Gerdes, I specifically told Mr. Gerdes about the 2011 lawsuit, providing him with links in emails to the "cease and desist" settlement which resulted from the lawsuit.
As this film deals with one of the more well known personalities in the world in Ms. Franklin, a woman who is known for her controversial and public disposition and litigious behavior, it is not credible that Hiscox can say, after the intensive application process that we went through, that they had no knowledge.
To remind from where the confusion/untangling emanated:
In 2011, Ms. Franklin filed a very public lawsuit against me, preventing the film from being exhibited.
In 2013, Warner Films discovered Ms. Franklin's personal service contract, which plainly allowed me to distribute the film.
The 2011 lawsuit was settled out of court, I suffered no loss. This 2011 claim was not something that would be covered by this insurance as we now had a signed contract from Ms. Franklin, one that had been used to make and distribute the film.
Importantly, all communications were done with knowledge by Hiscox/AON that the personal service contract and specifically the "indemnification letter" on page 2 of Ms. Franklin's personal service contract (which states: "We do hereby undertake and agree to hold and save you harmless of, from and against any loss, cost, damage or expense which may arise or result from said agreement, and we further agree that we will, upon demand, reimburse you for any cost, liability, or expense which you may incur or any payment which you make in accordance with, or as a result of, such agreement.") would serve as the "insurance for the insurance."
The muddiness of these events (Ms. Franklin suing me and hoping I would never find- or enforce her personal service contract) led my counsel and AON/Hiscox to dutifully consider the question, and it is disingenuous for Hiscox to claim otherwise.
Thank you.

Dear Laura,

I request that AON go back to Hiscox and have them reconsider providing coverage for the claim originally submitted in 2015.

When Hiscox declined coverage, it was because Hiscox claimed I had, after intensive vetted phone calls, emails and discussions with both Hiscox and with AON, failed to disclose previous issues with Ms. Franklin and that I answered the following question incorrectly:

"Have you suffered any loss or has any claim, whether successful or not, ever been made against you that would be covered by this insurance."

Hiscox and AON specifically directed me to answer the question "no." In discussions I had with both Hiscox's counsel Ted Gerdes, as well as AON's Stephen Carroll, we specifically reviewed the 2011 lawsuit and the personal service contract obtained in 2013 when considering how to answer the question. Thus, the answer was discussed and deliberated with both the carrier and the broker.

Because of the 2013 discovery of the personal service contract, AON/Hiscox vetted the contract and when the question came up, everyone was aware of the prior issues and they were satisfied with the enforceability of the personal service contract, which was evinced in the answer.

Coinciding with the time of Hiscox's exclusion of Aretha Franklin in 2015, I made a deal with Ms. Franklin's counsel that would nullify any issues. Because of this deal, I did not fight Hiscox.

However, after more than 15 months of negotiations, Ms. Franklin has declined two fully negotiated contracts that were approved and generated by and with her counsel. Both offers were OVER and above what Ms. Franklin and her counsel asked for. Ms. Franklin has since fired her counsel and I have no hope that she will accept any offer. Because Ms. Franklin refuses to negotiate any further, this leaves me no other option but to reopen the case in Denver.

The fundamental and virtually singular reason for my Hiscox insurance was because of Ms. Franklin's volatility. Hiscox directed me to discuss these matters with Ted Gerdes, I specifically told Mr. Gerdes about the 2011 lawsuit, providing him with links in emails to the "cease and desist" settlement which resulted from the lawsuit.

may incur or any payment which you make in accordance with, or as a result of, such agreement.") would serve as the “insurance for the insurance."

The muddiness of these events (Ms. Franklin suing me and hoping I would never find- or enforce her personal service contract) led my counsel and AON/Hiscox to dutifully consider the question, and it is disingenuous for Hiscox to claim otherwise.

Dear Laura,
I request that AON go back to Hiscox and have them reconsider providing coverage for the claim originally submitted in 2015.
When Hiscox declined coverage, it was because Hiscox claimed I had, after intensive vetted phone calls, emails and discussions with both Hiscox and with AON, failed to disclose previous issues with Ms. Franklin and that I answered the following question incorrectly:
"Have you suffered any loss or has any claim, whether successful or not, ever been made against you that would be covered by this insurance."
Hiscox and AON specifically directed me to answer the question "no." In discussions I had with both Hiscox's counsel Ted Gerdes, as well as AON's Stephen Carroll, we specifically reviewed the 2011 lawsuit and the personal service contract obtained in 2013 when considering how to answer the question. Thus, the answer was discussed and deliberated with both the carrier and the broker.
Because of the 2013 discovery of the personal service contract, AON/Hiscox vetted the contract and when the question came up, everyone was aware of the prior issues and they were satisfied with the enforceability of the personal service contract, which was evinced in the answer.
Coinciding with the time of Hiscox's exclusion of Aretha Franklin in 2015, I made a deal with Ms. Franklin's counsel that would nullify any issues. Because of this deal, I did not fight Hiscox.
However, after more than 15 months of negotiations, Ms. Franklin has declined two fully negotiated contracts that were approved and generated by and with her two fully negotiated contracts that were approved and generated by and with her counsel. Both offers were OVER and above what Ms. Franklin and her counsel asked for. Ms. Franklin has since fired her counsel and I have no hope that she will accept any offer. Because Ms. Franklin refuses to negotiate any further, this leaves me no other option but to reopen the case in Denver.

The fundamental and virtually singular reason for my Hiscox insurance was because of Ms. Franklin's volatility. Insurance would allow me to defend and enforce Ms. Franklin's contract, which was recently discovered (in 2013) by Warner Films. Hiscox directed me to discuss these matters with Ted Gerdes, I specifically told Mr. Gerdes about the 2011 lawsuit, providing him with links in emails to the "cease and desist" settlement which resulted from the lawsuit.
As this film deals with one of the more well known personalities in the world in Ms. Franklin, a woman who is known for her controversial and public disposition and litigious behavior, it is not credible that Hiscox can say, after the intensive application process that we went through, that they had no knowledge.
To remind from where the confusion/untangling emanated:
In 2011, Ms. Franklin filed a very public lawsuit against me, preventing the film from being exhibited.
In 2013, Warner Films discovered Ms. Franklin's personal service contract, which plainly allowed me to distribute the film.
The 2011 lawsuit was settled out of court, I suffered no loss. This 2011 claim was not something that would be covered by this insurance as we now had a signed contract from Ms. Franklin, one that had been used to make and distribute the film.
Importantly, all communications were done with knowledge by Hiscox/AON that the personal service contract and specifically the "indemnification letter" on page 2 of Ms. Franklin's personal service contract (which states: "We do hereby undertake and agree to hold and save you harmless of, from and against any loss, cost, damage or expense which may arise or result from said agreement, and we further agree that we will, upon demand, reimburse you for any cost, liability, or expense which you may incur or any payment which you make in accordance with, or as a result of, such agreement.") would serve as the "insurance for the insurance."
The muddiness of these events (Ms. Franklin suing me and hoping I would never find- or enforce her personal service contract) led my counsel and AON/Hiscox to dutifully consider the question, and it is disingenuous for Hiscox to claim otherwise.
Thank you.

Dear Laura,
I request that AON go back to Hiscox and have them reconsider providing coverage for the claim originally submitted in 2015.
When Hiscox declined coverage, it was because Hiscox claimed I had, after intensive vetted phone calls, emails and discussions with both Hiscox and with AON, failed to disclose previous issues with Ms. Franklin and that I answered the following question incorrectly:
"Have you suffered any loss or has any claim, whether successful or not, ever been made against you that would be covered by this insurance."
Hiscox and AON specifically directed me to answer the question "no." In discussions I had with both Hiscox's counsel Ted Gerdes, as well as AON's Stephen Carroll, we specifically reviewed the 2011 lawsuit and the personal service contract obtained in 2013 when considering how to answer the question. Thus, the answer was discussed and deliberated with both the carrier and the broker.
Because of the 2013 discovery of the personal service contract, AON/Hiscox vetted the contract and when the question came up, everyone was aware of the prior issues and they were satisfied with the enforceability of the personal service contract, which was evinced in the answer.
Coinciding with the time of Hiscox's exclusion of Aretha Franklin in 2015, I made a deal with Ms. Franklin's counsel that would nullify any issues. Because of this deal, I did not fight Hiscox.
However, after more than 15 months of negotiations, Ms. Franklin has declined two fully negotiated contracts that were approved and generated by and with her counsel. Both offers were OVER and above what Ms. Franklin and her counsel asked for. Ms. Franklin has since fired her counsel and I have no hope that she will accept any offer. Subject: Re: amazing grace; 27700815 - E&O - Aretha Franklin Claim

Dear Laura,
I request that AON go back to Hiscox and have them reconsider providing coverage for the claim originally submitted in 2015.
When Hiscox declined coverage, it was because Hiscox claimed I had, after intensive vetted phone calls, emails and discussions with both Hiscox and with AON, failed to disclose previous issues with Ms. Franklin and that I answered the following question incorrectly: "Have you suffered any loss or has any claim, whether successful or not, ever been made against you that would be covered by this insurance."
Hiscox and AON specifically directed me to answer the question "no." In discussions I had with both Hiscox's counsel Ted Gerdes, as well as AON's Stephen Carroll, we specifically reviewed the 2011 lawsuit and the personal service contract obtained in 2013 when considering how to answer the question. Thus, the answer was discussed and deliberated with both the carrier and the broker.
Because of the 2013 discovery of the personal service contract, AON/Hiscox vetted the contract and when the question came up, everyone was aware of the prior issues and they were satisfied with the enforceability of the personal service contract, which was evinced in the answer.
Coinciding with the time of Hiscox's exclusion of Aretha Franklin in 2015, I made a deal with Ms. Franklin's counsel that would nullify any issues. Because of this deal, I did not fight Hiscox.
However, after more than 15 months of negotiations, Ms. Franklin has declined two fully negotiated contracts that were approved and generated by and with her counsel. Both offers were OVER and above what Ms. Franklin and her counsel asked for. Ms. Franklin has since fired her counsel and I have no hope that she will accept any offer. Because Ms. Franklin refuses to negotiate any further, this leaves me no other option but to reopen the case in Denver.
The fundamental and virtually singular reason for my Hiscox insurance was because of Ms. Franklin's volatility. Insurance would allow me to defend and enforce Ms. Franklin's contract, which was recently discovered (in 2013) by Warner Films. Hiscox directed me to discuss these matters with Ted Gerdes, I specifically told Mr. Gerdes about the 2011 lawsuit, providing him with links in emails to the "cease and desist" settlement which resulted from the lawsuit.
As this film deals with one of the more well known personalities in the world in Ms. Franklin, a woman who is known for her controversial and public disposition and litigious behavior, it is not credible that Hiscox can say, after the intensive application process that we went through, that they had no knowledge.
To remind from where the confusion/untangling emanated:
In 2011, Ms. Franklin filed a very public lawsuit against me, preventing the film from being exhibited.
In 2013, Warner Films discovered Ms. Franklin's personal service contract, which plainly allowed me to distribute the film.

The 2011 lawsuit was settled out of court, I suffered no loss. This 2011 claim was not something that would be covered by this insurance as we now had a signed contract from Ms. Franklin, one that had been used to make and distribute the film.
Importantly, all communications were done with knowledge by Hiscox/AON that the personal service contract and specifically the "indemnification letter" on page 2 of Ms. Franklin's personal service contract (which states: "We do hereby undertake and agree to hold and save you harmless of, from and against any loss, cost, damage or expense which may arise or result from said agreement, and we further agree that we will, upon demand, reimburse you for any cost, liability, or expense which you may incur or any payment which you make in accordance with, or as a result of, such agreement.") would serve as the "insurance for the insurance."
The muddiness of these events (Ms. Franklin suing me and hoping I would never find- or enforce her personal service contract) led my counsel and AON/Hiscox to dutifully consider the question, and it is disingenuous for Hiscox to claim otherwise.
Thank you.

hi laura and maria

i want you, as my insurance brokers, to have the following. (see below.)

this case is now becoming EXTREMELY time sensitive as scheduling to make certain deadlines for the fall are now coming on.

if there's any way to get an answer asap from hiscox, that is very much appreciated.

thank you.

Subject: Re: amazing grace; 27700815 - E&O - Aretha Franklin Claim

Dear Laura,
I request that AON go back to Hiscox and have them reconsider providing coverage for the claim originally submitted in 2015.
When Hiscox declined coverage, it was because Hiscox claimed I had, after intensive vetted phone calls, emails and discussions with both Hiscox and with AON, failed to disclose previous issues with Ms. Franklin and that I answered the following question incorrectly:
"Have you suffered any loss or has any claim, whether successful or not, ever been made against you that would be covered by this insurance."
Hiscox and AON specifically directed me to answer the question "no." In discussions I had with both Hiscox's counsel Ted Gerdes, as well as AON's Stephen Carroll, we specifically reviewed the 2011 lawsuit and the personal service contract obtained in 2013 when considering how to answer the question. Thus, the answer was discussed and deliberated with both the carrier and the broker.
Because of the 2013 discovery of the personal service contract, AON/Hiscox vetted the contract and when the question came up, everyone was aware of the prior issues and they were satisfied with the enforceability of the personal service contract, which was evinced in the answer.
Coinciding with the time of Hiscox's exclusion of Aretha Franklin in 2015, I made a deal with Ms. Franklin's counsel that would nullify any issues. Because of this deal, I did not fight Hiscox.
However, after more than 15 months of negotiations, Ms. Franklin has declined two fully negotiated contracts that were approved and generated by and with her counsel. Both offers were OVER and above what Ms. Franklin and her counsel asked for. Ms. Franklin has since fired her counsel and I have no hope that she will accept any offer. Because Ms. Franklin refuses to negotiate any further, this leaves me no other option but to reopen the case in Denver.
The fundamental and virtually singular reason for my Hiscox insurance was because of Ms. Franklin's volatility. Insurance would allow me to defend and enforce Ms. Franklin's contract, which was recently discovered (in 2013) by Warner Films. Hiscox directed me to discuss these matters with Ted Gerdes. I specifically told Mr

2015) by Warner Films. Hiscox directed me to discuss these matters with Ted Gerdes, I specifically told Mr. Gerdes about the 2011 lawsuit, providing him with links in emails to the “cease and desist” settlement which resulted from the lawsuit.
As this film deals with one of the more well known personalities in the world in Ms. Franklin, a woman who is known for her controversial and public disposition and litigious behavior, it is not credible that Hiscox can say, after the intensive application process that we went through, that they had no knowledge.
To remind from where the confusion/untangling emanated:
In 2011, Ms. Franklin filed a very public lawsuit against me, preventing the film from being exhibited.
In 2013, Warner Films discovered Ms. Franklin’s personal service contract, which plainly allowed me to distribute the film.
The 2011 lawsuit was settled out of court, I suffered no loss. This 2011 claim was not something that would be covered by this insurance as we now had a signed contract from Ms. Franklin, one that had been used to make and distribute the film.
Importantly, all communications were done with knowledge by Hiscox/AON that the personal service contract and specifically the “indemnification letter” on page 2 of Ms. Franklin's personal service contract (which states: “We do hereby undertake and agree to hold and save you harmless of, from and against any loss, cost, damage or expense which may arise or result from said agreement, and we further agree that we will, upon demand, reimburse you for any cost, liability, or expense which you may incur or any payment which you make in accordance with, or as a result of, such agreement.”) would serve as the “insurance for the insurance."
The muddiness of these events (Ms. Franklin suing me and hoping I would never find- or enforce her personal service contract) led my counsel and AON/Hiscox to dutifully consider the question, and it is disingenuous for Hiscox to claim otherwise.
Thank you.
Alan

Per the insured's request, I want to confirm that we aware of the contract attached and that the insured is relying on this contract/document to make this film. We have vetted it's validity and are satisfied it is acceptable and therefore have not placed any special exclusions on the policy that would prohibit coverage under the policy . Of course, there are standard insurance policy terms, conditions and exclusion that apply regardless and we could never confirm or deny any coverage in advance as each and every claims sencerio is unique and must be evaluated on the specific facts and circumstances of the case. But again, the quote does not contain a chain of tile exclusion or any other specific exclusion involving this project and we recognize the Atlantic records indemnification letter in the Warner contract to be valid. Please note we have not yet cleared the title, as a title report and legal opinion has not been received to date.

Please let me know if you have any further questions.

Best,
Joann

documentary

2. What is the anticipated distribution/dissemination? theatrical release, TV special, etc…?

theatrical, vod, dvd, television

3. Was it previously produced and released and now they're re-releasing it?

it was (technically) produced by warners.

elements of the project have been released at least twice that we know of:

1) the atlantic 25th anniversary film, made with braverman productions <image001.png>
2) aretha franklin; the queen of soul (august 22, 1988)
(http://www.imdb.com/title/tt0210537/)

4. If not previously released please advise who produced it and who currently owns the copyright and what agreements are in place with this applicant.

the current iteration of the footage is owned by me with quitclaim from warner bors. films.

5. Did they obtain rights from Warner Brothers?

yes.

6. Did they obtain rights from Atlantic Records?

none needed, as per atlantic/warner music group.

7. Did Aretha Franklin participate in this production?

yes

Subject: Re: amazing grace; 27700815 - E&O - Aretha Franklin Claim

Dear Laura,
I request that AON go back to Hiscox and have them reconsider providing coverage for the claim originally submitted in 2015.
When Hiscox declined coverage, it was because Hiscox claimed I had, after intensive vetted phone calls, emails and discussions with both Hiscox and with AON, failed to disclose previous issues with Ms. Franklin and that I answered the following question incorrectly:
"Have you suffered any loss or has any claim, whether successful or not, ever been made against you that would be covered by this insurance."
Hiscox and AON specifically directed me to answer the question "no." In discussions I had with both Hiscox's counsel Ted Gerdes, as well as AON's Stephen Carroll, we specifically reviewed the 2011 lawsuit and the personal service contract obtained in 2013 when considering how to answer the question. Thus, the answer was discussed and deliberated with both the carrier and the broker.
Because of the 2013 discovery of the personal service contract, AON/Hiscox vetted the contract and when the question came up, everyone was aware of the prior issues and they were satisfied with the enforceability of the personal service contract, which was evinced in the answer.
Coinciding with the time of Hiscox's exclusion of Aretha Franklin in 2015, I made a deal with Ms. Franklin's counsel that would nullify any issues. Because of this deal, I did not fight Hiscox.
However, after more than 15 months of negotiations, Ms. Franklin has declined two fully negotiated contracts that were approved and generated by and with her counsel. Both offers were OVER and above what Ms. Franklin and her counsel asked for. Ms. Franklin has since fired her counsel and I have no hope that she will accept any offer. Because Ms. Franklin refuses to negotiate any further, this leaves me no other option but to reopen the case in Denver.
The fundamental and virtually singular reason for my Hiscox insurance was because of Ms. Franklin's volatility. Insurance would allow me to defend and enforce Ms. Franklin's contract, which was recently discovered (in 2013) by Warner Films. Hiscox directed me to discuss these matters with Ted Gerdes, I specifically told Mr. Gerdes about the 2011 lawsuit, providing him with links in emails to the "cease and desist" settlement which resulted from the lawsuit.
As this film deals with one of the more well known personalities in the world in Ms. Franklin, a woman who is known for her controversial and public disposition and litigious behavior, it is not credible that Hiscox can say, after the intensive application process that we went through, that they had no knowledge.
To remind from where the confusion/untangling emanated:
In 2011, Ms. Franklin filed a very public lawsuit against me, preventing the film from being exhibited.
In 2013, Warner Films discovered Ms. Franklin's personal service contract, which plainly allowed me to distribute the film.

The 2011 lawsuit was settled out of court, I suffered no loss. This 2011 claim was not something that would be covered by this insurance as we now had a signed contract from Ms. Franklin, one that had been used to make and distribute the film.
Importantly, all communications were done with knowledge by Hiscox/AON that the personal service contract and specifically the “indemnification letter” on page 2 of Ms. Franklin's personal service contract (which states: “We do hereby undertake and agree to hold and save you harmless of, from and against any loss, cost, damage or expense which may arise or result from said agreement, and we further agree that we will, upon demand, reimburse you for any cost, liability, or expense which you may incur or any payment which you make in accordance with, or as a result of, such agreement.”) would serve as the “insurance for the insurance."
The muddiness of these events (Ms. Franklin suing me and hoping I would never find- or enforce her personal service contract) led my counsel and AON/Hiscox to dutifully consider the question, and it is disingenuous for Hiscox to claim otherwise.
Thank you.
Alan

However, after more than 15 months of negotiations, Ms. Franklin has declined two fully negotiated contracts that were approved and generated by and with her counsel. Both offers were OVER and above what Ms. Franklin and her counsel asked for. Ms. Franklin has since fired her counsel and I have no hope that she will accept any offer. Because Ms. Franklin refuses to negotiate any further, this leaves me no other option but to reopen the case in Denver.
The fundamental and virtually singular reason for my Hiscox insurance was because of Ms. Franklin's volatility. Insurance would allow me to defend and enforce Ms. Franklin's contract, which was recently discovered (in 2013) by Warner Films. Hiscox directed me to discuss these matters with Ted Gerdes, I specifically told Mr. Gerdes about the 2011 lawsuit, providing him with links in emails to the "cease and desist" settlement which resulted from the lawsuit.
As this film deals with one of the more well known personalities in the world in Ms. Franklin, a woman who is known for her controversial and public disposition and litigious behavior, it is not credible that Hiscox can say, after the intensive application process that we went through, that they had no knowledge.
To remind from where the confusion/untangling emanated:
In 2011, Ms. Franklin filed a very public lawsuit against me, preventing the film from being exhibited.
In 2013, Warner Films discovered Ms. Franklin's personal service contract, which plainly allowed me to distribute the film.
The 2011 lawsuit was settled out of court, I suffered no loss. This 2011 claim was not something that would be covered by this insurance as we now had a signed contract from Ms. Franklin, one that had been used to make and distribute the film.
Importantly, all communications were done with knowledge by Hiscox/AON that the personal service contract and specifically the "indemnification letter" on page 2 of Ms. Franklin's personal service contract (which states: "We do hereby undertake and agree to hold and save you harmless of, from and against any loss, cost, damage or expense which may arise or result from said agreement, and we further agree that we will, upon demand, reimburse you for any cost, liability, or expense which you may incur or any payment which you make in accordance with, or as a result of, such agreement.") would serve as the "insurance for the insurance."
The muddiness of these events (Ms. Franklin suing me and hoping I would never find- or enforce her personal service contract) led my counsel and AON/Hiscox to dutifully consider the question, and it is disingenuous for Hiscox to claim otherwise.
Thank you.

Dear Laura,

I request that AON go back to Hiscox and have them reconsider providing coverage for the claim originally submitted in 2015.

When Hiscox declined coverage, it was because Hiscox claimed I had, after intensive vetted phone calls, emails and discussions with both Hiscox and with AON, failed to disclose previous issues with Ms. Franklin and that I answered the following question incorrectly:

"Have you suffered any loss or has any claim, whether successful or not, ever been made against you that would be covered by this insurance."

Hiscox and AON specifically directed me to answer the question "no." In discussions I had with both Hiscox's counsel Ted Gerdes, as well as AON's Stephen Carroll, we specifically reviewed the 2011 lawsuit and the personal service contract obtained in 2013 when considering how to answer the question. Thus, the answer was discussed and deliberated with both the carrier and the broker.

Because of the 2013 discovery of the personal service contract, AON/Hiscox vetted the contract and when the question came up, everyone was aware of the prior issues and they were satisfied with the enforceability of the personal service contract, which was evinced in the answer.

Coinciding with the time of Hiscox's exclusion of Aretha Franklin in 2015, I made a deal with Ms. Franklin's counsel that would nullify any issues. Because of this deal, I did not fight Hiscox.

However, after more than 15 months of negotiations, Ms. Franklin has declined two fully negotiated contracts that were approved and generated by and with her counsel. Dear Laura,
I request that AON go back to Hiscox and have them reconsider providing coverage for the claim originally submitted in 2015.
When Hiscox declined coverage, it was because Hiscox claimed I had, after intensive vetted phone calls, emails and discussions with both Hiscox and with AON, failed to disclose previous issues with Ms. Franklin and that I answered the following question incorrectly:
"Have you suffered any loss or has any claim, whether successful or not, ever been made against you that would be covered by this insurance."
Hiscox and AON specifically directed me to answer the question "no." In discussions I had with both Hiscox's counsel Ted Gerdes, as well as AON's Stephen Carroll, we specifically reviewed the 2011 lawsuit and the personal service contract obtained in 2013 when considering how to answer the question. Thus, the answer was discussed and deliberated with both the carrier and the broker.
Because of the 2013 discovery of the personal service contract, AON/Hiscox vetted the contract and when the question came up, everyone was aware of the prior issues and they were satisfied with the enforceability of the personal service contract, which was evinced in the answer.
Coinciding with the time of Hiscox's exclusion of Aretha Franklin in 2015, I made a deal with Ms. Franklin's counsel that would nullify any issues. Because of this deal, I did not fight Hiscox.
However, after more than 15 months of negotiations, Ms. Franklin has declined two fully negotiated contracts that were approved and generated by and with her counsel. Both offers were OVER and above what Ms. Franklin and her counsel asked for. Ms. Franklin has since fired her counsel and I have no hope that she will accept any offer. Because Ms. Franklin refuses to negotiate any further, this leaves me no other option but to reopen the case in Denver.

The fundamental and virtually singular reason for my Hiscox insurance was because of Ms. Franklin's volatility. Insurance would allow me to defend and enforce Ms. Franklin's contract, which was recently discovered (in 2013) by Warner Films. Hiscox directed me to discuss these matters with Ted Gerdes, I specifically told Mr. Gerdes about the 2011 lawsuit, providing him with links in emails to the "cease and desist" settlement which resulted from the lawsuit.
As this film deals with one of the more well known personalities in the world in Ms. Franklin, a woman who is known for her controversial and public disposition and litigious behavior, it is not credible that Hiscox can say, after the intensive application process that we went through, that they had no knowledge.
To remind from where the confusion/untangling emanated:
In 2011, Ms. Franklin filed a very public lawsuit against me, preventing the film from being exhibited.
In 2013, Warner Films discovered Ms. Franklin's personal service contract, which plainly allowed me to distribute the film.
The 2011 lawsuit was settled out of court, I suffered no loss. This 2011 claim was not something that would be covered by this insurance as we now had a signed contract from Ms. Franklin, one that had been used to make and distribute the film.
Importantly, all communications were done with knowledge by Hiscox/AON that the personal service contract and specifically the "indemnification letter" on page 2 of Ms. Franklin's personal service contract (which states: "We do hereby undertake and agree to hold and save you harmless of, from and against any loss, cost, damage or expense which may arise or result from said agreement, and we further agree that we will, upon demand, reimburse you for any cost, liability, or expense which you may incur or any payment which you make in accordance with, or as a result of, such agreement.") would serve as the "insurance for the insurance."
The muddiness of these events (Ms. Franklin suing me and hoping I would never find- or enforce her personal service contract) led my counsel and AON/Hiscox to dutifully consider the question, and it is disingenuous for Hiscox to claim otherwise.
Thank you.

Subject: Re: amazing grace, LP00013 -- Loss -- Aretha Franklin Claim

Dear Laura,
I request that AON go back to Hiscox and have them reconsider providing coverage for the claim originally submitted in 2015.
When Hiscox declined coverage, it was because Hiscox claimed I had, after intensive vetted phone calls, emails and discussions with both Hiscox and with AON, failed to disclose previous issues with Ms. Franklin and that I answered the following question incorrectly:
"Have you suffered any loss or has any claim, whether successful or not, ever been made against you that would be covered by this insurance."
Hiscox and AON specifically directed me to answer the question "no." In discussions I had with both Hiscox's counsel Ted Gerdes, as well as AON's Stephen Carroll, we specifically reviewed the 2011 lawsuit and the personal service contract obtained in 2013 when considering how to answer the question. Thus, the answer was discussed and deliberated with both the carrier and the broker.
Because of the 2013 discovery of the personal service contract, AON/Hiscox vetted the contract and when the question came up, everyone was aware of the prior issues and they were satisfied with the enforceability of the personal service contract, which was evinced in the answer.
Coinciding with the time of Hiscox's exclusion of Aretha Franklin in 2015, I made a deal with Ms. Franklin's counsel that would nullify any issues. Because of this deal, I did not fight Hiscox.
However, after more than 15 months of negotiations, Ms. Franklin has declined two fully negotiated contracts that were approved and generated by and with her counsel. Both offers were OVER and above what Ms. Franklin and her counsel asked for. Ms. Franklin has since fired her counsel and I have no hope that she will accept any offer. Because Ms. Franklin refuses to negotiate any further, this leaves me no other option but to reopen the case in Denver.
The fundamental and virtually singular reason for my Hiscox insurance was because of Ms. Franklin's volatility. Insurance would allow me to defend and enforce Ms. Franklin's contract, which was recently discovered (in 2013) by Warner Films. Hiscox directed me to discuss these matters with Ted Gerdes, I specifically told Mr. Gerdes about the 2011 lawsuit, providing him with links in emails to the "cease and desist" settlement which resulted from the lawsuit.
As this film deals with one of the more well known personalities in the world in Ms. Franklin, a woman who is known for her controversial and public disposition and litigious behavior, it is not credible that Hiscox can say, after the intensive application process that we went through, that they had no knowledge.
To remind from where the confusion/untangling emanated:
In 2011, Ms. Franklin filed a very public lawsuit against me, preventing the film from being exhibited.
In 2013, Warner Films discovered Ms. Franklin's personal service contract, which plainly allowed me to distribute the film.
The 2011 lawsuit was settled out of court, I suffered no loss. This 2011 claim was not something that would be covered by this insurance as we now had a signed contract from Ms. Franklin, one that had been used to make and distribute the film.

which you may incur or any payment which you make in accordance with, or as a result of, such agreement.") would serve as the "insurance for the insurance." The muddiness of these events (Ms. Franklin suing me and hoping I would never find- or enforce her personal service contract) led my counsel and AON/Hiscox to dutifully consider the question, and it is disingenuous for Hiscox to claim otherwise.
Thank you.

> Hiscox and AON specifically directed me to answer the question "no." In discussions I had with both Hiscox's counsel Ted Gerdes, as well as AON's Stephen Carroll, we specifically reviewed the 2011 lawsuit and the personal service contract obtained in 2013 when considering how to answer the question. Thus, the answer was discussed and deliberated with both the carrier and the broker.

Because of the 2013 discovery of the personal service contract, AON/Hiscox vetted the contract and when the question came up, everyone was aware of the prior issues and they were satisfied with the enforceability of the personal service contract, which was evinced in the answer.
Coinciding with the time of Hiscox's exclusion of Aretha Franklin in 2015, I made a deal with Ms. Franklin's counsel that would nullify any issues. Because of this deal, I did not fight Hiscox.
However, after more than 15 months of negotiations, Ms. Franklin has declined two fully negotiated contracts that were approved and generated by and with her counsel. Both offers were OVER and above what Ms. Franklin and her counsel asked for. Ms. Franklin has since fired her counsel and I have no hope that she will accept any offer. Because Ms. Franklin refuses to negotiate any further, this leaves me no other option but to reopen the case in Denver.
The fundamental and virtually singular reason for my Hiscox insurance was because of Ms. Franklin's volatility. Insurance would allow me to defend and enforce Ms. Franklin's contract, which was recently discovered (in 2013) by Warner Films. Hiscox directed me to discuss these matters with Ted Gerdes, I specifically told Mr. Gerdes about the 2011 lawsuit, providing him with links in emails to the "cease and desist" settlement which resulted from the lawsuit.
As this film deals with one of the more well known personalities in the world in Ms. Franklin, a woman who is known for her controversial and public disposition and litigious behavior, it is not credible that Hiscox can say, after the intensive application process that we went through, that they had no knowledge.
To remind from where the confusion/untangling emanated:
In 2011, Ms. Franklin filed a very public lawsuit against me, preventing the film from being exhibited.
In 2013, Warner Films discovered Ms. Franklin's personal service contract, which plainly allowed me to distribute the film.
The 2011 lawsuit was settled out of court, I suffered no loss. This 2011 claim was not something that would be covered by this insurance as we now had a signed contract from Ms. Franklin, one that had been used to make and distribute the film.
Importantly, all communications were done with knowledge by Hiscox/AON that the personal service contract and specifically the "indemnification letter" on page 2 of Ms. Franklin's personal service contract (which states: "We do hereby undertake and agree to hold and save you harmless of, from and against any loss, cost, damage or expense which may arise or result from said agreement, and we further agree that we will, upon demand, reimburse you for any cost, liability, or expense which you may incur or any payment which you make in accordance with, or as a result of, such agreement.") would serve as the "insurance for the insurance."
The muddiness of these events (Ms. Franklin suing me and hoping I would never find- or enforce her personal service contract) led my counsel and AON/Hiscox to dutifully consider the question, and it is disingenuous for Hiscox to claim otherwise.
Thank you.

Dear Laura,
I request that AON go back to Hiscox and have them reconsider providing coverage for the claim originally submitted in 2015.
When Hiscox declined coverage, it was because Hiscox claimed I had, after intensive vetted phone calls, emails and discussions with both Hiscox and with AON, failed to disclose previous issues with Ms. Franklin and that I answered the following question incorrectly:

hi laura and maria

i want you, as my insurance brokers, to have the following. (see below.)

this case is now becoming EXTREMELY time sensitive as scheduling to make certain deadlines for the fall are now coming on.

if there's any way to get an answer asap from hiscox, that is very much appreciated.

thank you.

Subject: Re: amazing grace; 27700815 - E&O - Aretha Franklin Claim

Dear Laura,
I request that AON go back to Hiscox and have them reconsider providing coverage for the claim originally submitted in 2015.
When Hiscox declined coverage, it was because Hiscox claimed I had, after intensive vetted phone calls, emails and discussions with both Hiscox and with AON, failed to disclose previous issues with Ms. Franklin and that I answered the following question incorrectly:
"Have you suffered any loss or has any claim, whether successful or not, ever been made against you that would be covered by this insurance."
Hiscox and AON specifically directed me to answer the question "no." In discussions I had with both Hiscox's counsel Ted Gerdes, as well as AON's Stephen Carroll, we specifically reviewed the 2011 lawsuit and the personal service contract obtained in 2013 when considering how to answer the question. Thus, the answer was discussed and deliberated with both the carrier and the broker.
Because of the 2013 discovery of the personal service contract, AON/Hiscox vetted the contract and when the question came up, everyone was aware of the prior issues and they were satisfied with the enforceability of the personal service contract, which was evinced in the answer.
Coinciding with the time of Hiscox's exclusion of Aretha Franklin in 2015, I made a deal with Ms. Franklin's counsel that would nullify any issues. Because of this deal, I did not fight Hiscox.
However, after more than 15 months of negotiations, Ms. Franklin has declined two fully negotiated contracts that were approved and generated by and with her counsel. Both offers were OVER and above what Ms. Franklin and her counsel asked for. Ms. Franklin has since fired her counsel and I have no hope that she will accept any offer. Because Ms. Franklin refuses to negotiate any further, this leaves me no other option but to reopen the case in Denver.
The fundamental and virtually singular reason for my Hiscox insurance was because of Ms. Franklin's volatility. Insurance would allow me to defend and enforce Ms. Franklin's contract, which was recently discovered (in 2013) by Warner Films. Hiscox directed me to discuss these matters with Ted Gerdes. I specifically told Mr 2015) by Warner Films. Hiscox directed me to discuss these matters with Ted Gerdes, I specifically told Mr. Gerdes about the 2011 lawsuit, providing him with links in emails to the “cease and desist” settlement which resulted from the lawsuit.

As this film deals with one of the more well known personalities in the world in Ms. Franklin, a woman who is known for her controversial and public disposition and litigious behavior, it is not credible that Hiscox can say, after the intensive application process that we went through, that they had no knowledge.
To remind from where the confusion/untangling emanated:
In 2011, Ms. Franklin filed a very public lawsuit against me, preventing the film from being exhibited.
In 2013, Warner Films discovered Ms. Franklin’s personal service contract, which plainly allowed me to distribute the film.
The 2011 lawsuit was settled out of court, I suffered no loss. This 2011 claim was not something that would be covered by this insurance as we now had a signed contract from Ms. Franklin, one that had been used to make and distribute the film.
Importantly, all communications were done with knowledge by Hiscox/AON that the personal service contract and specifically the “indemnification letter” on page 2 of Ms. Franklin's personal service contract (which states: “We do hereby undertake and agree to hold and save you harmless of, from and against any loss, cost, damage or expense which may arise or result from said agreement, and we further agree that we will, upon demand, reimburse you for any cost, liability, or expense which you may incur or any payment which you make in accordance with, or as a result of, such agreement.”) would serve as the “insurance for the insurance."
The muddiness of these events (Ms. Franklin suing me and hoping I would never find- or enforce her personal service contract) led my counsel and AON/Hiscox to dutifully consider the question, and it is disingenuous for Hiscox to claim otherwise.
Thank you.
Alan

Hi Alan

Per our conversation, you would like to go back to Hiscox and have them reconsider providing coverage for the claim originally submitted in 2015. Please confirm via this e-mail and provide any new details and reason behind your disagreement with carrier, specifically that the claim presented was not related to the 2011 claim and why. Maria will then get in contact with Hiscox and see what they say.

theatrical, vod, dvd, television

3. Was it previously produced and released and now they're re-releasing it?

it was (technically) produced by warners.

elements of the project have been released at least twice that we know of:

1) the atlantic 25th anniversary film, made with braverman productions <image001.png>
2) aretha franklin; the queen of soul (august 22, 1988) (http://www.imdb.com/title/tt0210537/)

the current iteration of the footage is owned by me with quitclaim from warner bors. films.

5. Did they obtain rights from Warner Brothers?

yes.

6. Did they obtain rights from Atlantic Records?

none needed, as per atlantic/warner music group.

7. Did Aretha Franklin participate in this production?

yes

Alan: I got the following indication from Axis:

Full/Wide theatrical release:
$1m/$3m $25k SIR $15,539 3 year policy with TOIE

Limited theatrical release:
$1m/$3m $25k SIR $7,063 3 year term with TOIE

All forms of non-theatrical release:
$1m/$3m $25k SIR $4,528 3 year term with TOIE.

Unfortunately on this type of risk we cannot offer music coverage as the artist should have own coverage.

Clearly Hiscox is the way to go. Give me a call to discuss.

Hi Alan,

It is en route.

Forgive us- for some reason it was held Thursday- when i expected it to go out- and it went out Friday instead.

Really embarrassed.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

You have asked us to provide you with a new proposal. Our goal is to obtain the appropriate insurance coverage, at the most competitive price. We approached Hiscox who specializes in this type of insurance coverage. Please refer to the Quote Disclosure Report attached, which outlines our commission for the quoted coverage. If you wish to bind coverage as outlined in this proposal, please check the lines of coverage you are accepting and sign the Acknowledgment and Approval of Insured below.

Acknowledgment and Approval of Insured

We hereby acknowledge receipt and review of the information presented in the New Proposal ("Proposal") dated 7/8/2015 for Errors & Omissions and provided in the attached Quote Disclosure Report dated 7/8/2015. We hereby instruct Aon/Albert G. Ruben Insurance Services, Inc. (AGR) to bind the insurance program(s) selected by us and understand that our instruction to bind constitutes an acceptance of the terms and conditions and payments described in this Proposal, including ARS U.S. Business Terms. We consent to the procedure whereby Aon will place or renew additional policies we are likely to need in the twelve months following this program inception with the insurer we have selected. We understand that Aon will advise us of any variances in premium rates, coverages, terms or conditions applicable to additional placed policies prior to binding them for our approval.

Hi Alan,

It is en route.

Forgive us- for some reason it was held Thursday- when i expected it to go out- and it went out Friday instead.

Really embarrassed.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

You have asked us to provide you with a new proposal. Our goal is to obtain the appropriate insurance coverage, at the most competitive price. We approached Hiscox who specializes in this type of insurance coverage. Please refer to the Quote Disclosure Report attached, which outlines our commission for the quoted coverage. If you wish to bind coverage as outlined in this proposal, please check the lines of coverage you are accepting and sign the Acknowledgment and Approval of Insured below.

Acknowledgment and Approval of Insured

We hereby acknowledge receipt and review of the information presented in the New Proposal (“Proposal”) dated 7/8/2015 for Errors & Omissions and provided in the attached Quote Disclosure Report dated 7/8/2015. We hereby instruct Aon/Albert G. Ruben Insurance Services, Inc. (AGR) to bind the insurance program(s) selected by us and understand that our instruction to bind constitutes an acceptance of the terms and conditions and payments described in this Proposal, including ARS U.S. Business Terms. We consent to the procedure whereby Aon will place or renew additional policies we are likely to need in the twelve months following this program inception with the insurer we have selected. We understand that Aon will advise us of any variances in premium rates, coverages, terms or conditions applicable to additional placed policies prior to binding them for our approval.

I need to get coverage on the "consents" for all that are on screen- from Aretha Franklin to the choir to the band.

I have separate releases for each- including Aretha's personal service contract with warner brothers.

can we get on the phone today with the insurance company so we can get that going please?

hi stephen

per my conversation with joanne, i would like to bind coverage asap.

i would like, in the coverage, as also discussed with joanne, is for the following to be specifically delineated in the coverage:

- a statement from the hiscox that they are insuring the project, and those involved with the project, from all claims regarding the chain of title to the film.

- that there are no exclusions to the coverage and the term/cost of an extended policy, since the coverage needs to extend for the full length of all agreements.

(of course there are always exclusions for fraud, withholding pertinent information, etc.)

- that the Atlantic records indemnification letter in the warner contract is in effect.

thank you.

it was (technically) produced by warners.

elements of the project have been released at least twice that we know of:

1) the atlantic 25th anniversary film, made with braverman productions <image001.png>
2) aretha franklin; the queen of soul (august 22, 1988) (http://www.imdb.com/title/tt0210537/)

4. If not previously released please advise who produced it and who currently owns the copyright and what agreements are in place with this applicant.

the current iteration of the footage is owned by me with quitclaim from warner bors. films.

5. Did they obtain rights from Warner Brothers?

yes.

6. Did they obtain rights from Atlantic Records?

none needed, as per atlantic/warner music group.

7. Did Aretha Franklin participate in this production?

yes

Hi Alan,

Thank you for answering Q#22. I will send the revised application to Hiscox. We still need the following in order to bind coverage.

1. "Acknowledgment and Approval of Insured" form signed, dated and returned (1st attachment, page 4)

2. Full premium made payable to Aon/Albert G. Ruben.

Thanks,

Annette Shavuo

hi stephen

per my conversation with joanne, i would like to bind coverage asap.

i would like, in the coverage, as also discussed with joanne, is for the following to be specifically delineated in the coverage:

- a statement from the hiscox that they are insuring the project, and those involved with the project, from all claims regarding the chain of title to the film project, from all claims regarding the chain of title to the film.

- that there are no exclusions to the coverage and the term/cost of an extended policy, since the coverage needs to extend for the full length of all agreements.

(of course there are always exclusions for fraud, withholding pertinent information, etc.)

- that the Atlantic records indemnification letter in the warner contract is in effect.

thank you.

finally responded to the submission and had the following questions. I apologize but would appreciate any clarification you can provide:

1. Is this a documentary, music video or something else?

documentary

2. What is the anticipated distribution/dissemination? theatrical release, TV special, etc…?

theatrical, vod, dvd, television

3. Was it previously produced and released and now they're re-releasing it?

it was (technically) produced by warners.

elements of the project have been released at least twice that we know of:

1) the atlantic 25th anniversary film, made with braverman productions <image001.png>
2) aretha franklin; the queen of soul (august 22, 1988) (http://www.imdb.com/title/tt0210537/)

4. If not previously released please advise who produced it and who currently owns the copyright and what agreements are in place with this applicant.

the current iteration of the footage is owned by me with quitclaim from warner bors. films.

5. Did they obtain rights from Warner Brothers?

yes.

6. Did they obtain rights from Atlantic Records?

none needed, as per atlantic/warner music group.

7. Did Aretha Franklin participate in this production?

yes

hello stephen

i have been in touch with some attorneys about hiscox's declining of my coverage and, long story short, they find hiscox's position suspect.

i currently have an offer from a film company that would pay $2.3m- and over the lifetime of the contract (27 years) i believe the value should be at least 5x's that, which is what i may have to walk away from because of hiscox's position currently.

i would like to get your thoughts on how to best challenge hiscox to reinstate the policy asap and/or some referrals to litigators.

thank you.

theatrical, vod, dvd, television

it was (technically) produced by warners.

elements of the project have been released at least twice that we know of:

1) the atlantic 25th anniversary film, made with braverman productions

2) aretha franklin; the queen of soul (august 22, 1988) (http://www.imdb.com/title/tt0210537/)

the current iteration of the footage is owned by me with quitclaim from warner bors. films.

yes.

none needed, as per atlantic/warner music group.

hey stephen

can you please ask the carrier re: “amazing grace” if, as suggested by hiscox’s referral (lincoln bandlow), that in fact, if there is a settlement with aretha frankln and amazing grace llc, that producers errors and omissions coverage is in place that provides for a $25,000 deductible and coverage of $5m/$5m for three years? Plus we need a quote because this policy has to be paid for 3 years as part of Delivery.

I don’t believe that the carrier is taking the position that all coverage is now null and void or if just coverage relating to any claim by Aretha is out. So that would have to be clarified with the carrier. I would lean to thinking they are just excluding Aretha claims.

I don’t believe that the carrier is taking the position that all coverage is now null and void or if just coverage relating to any claim by Aretha is out. So that would have to be clarified with the carrier. I would lean to thinking they are just excluding Aretha claims.

hello stephen:

i had a presumed deal with lionsgate films. the deal was for $2.3m and has fallen through because the sydney pollack estate has refused to further indemnify the film company.

lionsgate, down the stretch of the 8 month + negotiation asked us to “make peace” with barry tyerman- the attorney for the late sydney pollack (pollack died before the film was edited). lionsgate asked for a signed indemnification letter from the estate.

we had sold the film to lionsgate with full disclosure that mr. tyerman had asked me to remove mr. pollack’s name as director of the film prior to the film festival in telluride last year. i did as mr. tyerman asked, removed mr. pollack’s name from the film, and thought that would be the end (the film does NOT have the pollack name on it, nor did we ever warrant that we were selling a sydney pollack film).

to try to satisfy lionsgate, we prepared two separate letters (see below) in addition to the memo from warner films showing that pollack had been paid.

steve spira, the president of business affairs, has told me that mr. tyerman came to warner brothers looking for further payment. mr. spira told me that warners told mr. tyerman that according to mr. pollack’s contract, warners felt there was no further compensation due to the estate.

also, bryan unger, the dga’s associate national executive director, took the following position on behalf of the director’s guild:

all of this is to inform you of the situation.

we have other offers which are being negotiated. i have no plans to negotiate any further with mr. tyerman.

> Attached find a federal lawsuit filed early this morning on behalf of Aretha Franklin seeking an injunction to stop the public showing or release of the Film "Amazing Grace," which, based on public reports, is to be shown at 7:30 p.m in Telluride. We will be seeking an immediate audience with the Federal Court in Denver to protect Ms. Franklin's rights to her name and likeness. As the exhibits hereto show, the Producer of the film, Mr. Elliot, was never granted permission by Ms. Franklin to publicly show the film and publicly displaying any footage of Ms. Franklin's 1972 concert would be a significant violation of her rights as well as a violation of the federal anti-bootlegging statute.

the Festival wants to be heard by the Court.

I can be reached at my office line 303-244-1993 or my cell phone 303-917-3871.

Thank you for your prompt attention to this request.

> Detroit--Aretha Franklin has proceeded to file an injunction against the release and showing of the film, "Amazing Grace."

Ms. Franklin says she is taking legal action "because the film holders refuse to compensate me for my name and likeness in the film."
The internationally-acclaimed singer has hired the Detroit law firm, Dykema Gossett.

The film shows the making of Ms. Franklin's landmark gospel album, 'Amazing Grace," that she recorded in 1972. It remains the biggest selling gospel album of all time.

Per the insured's request, I want to confirm that we aware of the contract attached and that the insured is relying on this contract/document to make this film. We have vetted it's validity and are satisfied it is acceptable and therefore have not placed any special exclusions on the policy that would prohibit coverage under the policy . Of course, there are standard insurance policy terms, conditions and exclusion that apply regardless and we could never confirm or deny any coverage in advance as each and every claims sencerio is unique and must be evaluated on the specific facts and circumstances of the case. But again, the quote does not contain a chain of tile exclusion or any other specific exclusion involving this project and we recognize the Atlantic records indemnification letter in the Warner contract to be valid. Please note we have not yet cleared the title, as a title report and legal opinion has not been received to date.

Please let me know if you have any further questions.

Best,
Joann

Steve-

As we discussed now on the phone, below are my email correspondences re: Sydney Pollack's attorney Barry Tyerman. i have searched my files in an effort to give a complete view. You should also speak with Tom McGuire about his meetings/conversations with Barry Tyerman.

Some context (and please ask any questions):

Barry Tyerman is the attorney for Sydney Pollack (Mr. Pollack passed away in May, 2008). Since I received quitclaim of the project from Warner Bros. in 2007, out of respect for the late Mr. Pollack, I have kept Mr. Tyerman updated on the film's progress. I have, as you can see below, asked Mr. Tyerman what he would consider for additional payment for Mr. Pollack's heirs. Mr. Tyerman has, in these eight years, not given me an answer.

Prior to the Telluride Film Festival in September, 2015, Mr. Tyerman asked me to remove Mr. Pollack's credit from the film, I did so.

Over the years, I have repeatedly provided Mr. Tyerman with the following as proof of Warners' payment:

http://alsrecordsandtapes.com/amazinglaw/wbdocs/wb%20legal%20pollack%20payment.pdf

I have discussed the issue of Mr. Pollack and Mr. Tyerman's claim on behalf of Mr. Pollack with both Dan Furie, Warner Bros . Pictures, Business Affairs, and the President, Worldwide Business Affairs, Warner Bros. Pictures Steven S. Spira.

Warners has provided me all documents re: Sydney Pollack.

Mr. Tyerman has claimed that there may be a previous 1997 contract with Warners. Mr. Tyerman was asked by Tom McGuire a month or so ago about the contract. Mr. Tyerman has not provided the contract. Warners has no copy of the agreement Mr. Tyerman talked of.

Both Mr. Spira and Mr. Furie advised Mr. Tyerman that, according to all known documents, Mr. Pollack is not owed anything further.

Mr. Spira said to me privately, "Mr. Tyerman asked us for money on this. I told him he had no cause. He is on a fishing expedition."

Other docs. with Sydney Pollack can be found at the web site (http://alsrecordsandtapes.com/amazinglaw/wbdocs/), including a general release for Mr. Pollack's image/likeness (which Mr. Pollack and his crew wrote):

http://alsrecordsandtapes.com/amazinglaw/wbdocs/amazing%20releases%20church%20choir.pdfa

thank you.

blank. I suggested that he may have done business through a loan out company, and that it could conceivably be filed under the company name. She researched his company “Sanford Production” today and found nothing on Amazing Grace. I also suggested that the doc could be traced through the disbursement of his fee. But as with most things, records of that end of the transaction seem to be lost to history. This circles back to the matter of how we deal with Sydney. Alan Wertheimer says that Syd’s lawyer Barry Tyreman was around and remembers the transaction. Chances are he has the doc, if it exists. I haven’t told Alan that we acquired the film because we have our hands full with Aretha. Need to discuss.

Tom,

I understand from Warners that you are representing Mr. Elliott and this project, which frankly surprises me given the attitude and disregard for contractual and creative rights he has consistently and routinely exhibited. Contrary to Mr. Elliott’s assertion he has no rights to either the name, likeness, biography or results and proceeds of services of Sydney Pollack or Aretha Franklin (among other essential clearances) and he is about to step off the deepest darkest elevator shaft of his life.

I say put those arguments to the side and lets see what he wants. There isnt really any money. A share of the back end, I would say ok, depending on the amount. And the right to use his name and likeness in the film and in promo/advertising. He should have directing credit, but that will depend on the DGA. You can give his estate a consultation right, or even an approval right, over the use of his image in the film and advertising—as long as there is an agreement that they are supporting the release, they will not be obstructionist, I don't believe.

Thanks Tom. I realize that you may not have been made privy to all of the agreements and other commitments your client has made over the years with respect to this project and then "reconsidered". I believe you will ultimately be made aware that the "standstill" agreement with Ms. Franklin was in fact entered into, among others. It goes without saying that I have the utmost respect for you and WME and I'm sure that you and your agency would not want to be party to the violation of these arrangements.

And as to direct communications with our clients, without debating your ethical analysis, our clients have requested that there be no direct communication and that everything be routed through our offices.

As to the use of Mr. Pollack's name and image, Warners will confirm to you that they did not purport to grant any such rights and, whatever his legal position, Mr. Elliott has volunteered to remove Mr. Pollack's unauthorized and inappropriate credit. Perhaps this is another commitment which he is "reconsidering?

Thank you. Barry

Barry,

I will pass this email on. However, two observations:

1. I am unaware of any "standstill" agreement or other similar agreement that Alan or his production has entered into with Ms. Franklin. I would be happy to be on a call with you and/or her representative(s) to confirm that.
2. I do not believe it is against any ethical laws for Alan to speak directly to anyone involved in this matter. I will advise him that you do not want him to speak to Rachel or any other member of the family.

In addition, I do not know myself that Alan offered to take Mr. Pollack's name off the film, either generally or in the manner in which you suggest. I am passing your email on to Alan.

Tom,

I know that we have been missing each other. On the chance that it may take some time to connect, please advise your client that, without prejudice, the successors to the rights of Sydney Pollack accept his suggestion to take Mr. Pollack's name off the film, including for the proposed screenings at Toronto. Please have him cease any further use of Mr. Pollack's name, performance or image and, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, delete any and all visual or other references to Mr. Pollack in and in connection with the film.

I understand that quite provocatively Mr. Elliott has flagrantly breached a "standstill" agreement entered into with or on behalf of Aretha Franklin. Clearly not a positive move or one likely to encourage cooperation from anyone. I have been put in contact with her representatives.

Nothing contained herein or our previous correspondence shall be construed as a waiver of any of our clients' rights, positions or remedies, all of which are expressly reserved.

Tom,

Just as a reminder, this is the status quo.

No rights have been granted to use the name, likeness, performance or biography of Sydney Pollack in connection with this project and Mr. Elliott specifically agreed to take Mr. Pollack's name off the film, of course without prejudice to our other rights, positions and remedies. Anyone acting inconsistently with this will be held accountable.

And clearly despite your encouragement and what I thought was our understanding, Mr. Elliott continues to pester friends, family and professional colleagues of our late client. Please make sure that this is discontinued.

Thank you. Barry

I am not talking about people soliciting Alan, but rather the reverse including, for example, his contacting Mr. Pollack's longtime assistant asking her what credit she would like!

As to our discussions, my recollection is that you were talking to Arnold Reed attempting to make a deal for Ms. Franklin's rights, none of which to our knowledge have been granted to date. If you are able to make a mutually acceptable arrangement you were then going to come to us to attempt to make a deal for Mr. Pollack's rights, absolutely none of which have been granted.

In the interim, wherever the project may go, lawfully or unlawfully, it may not go with the use of any Mr. Pollack's rights and Mr. Elliott specifically committed to take his name off the film, which we have accepted. Please confirm that this has been implemented and that there shall not be any inference in any discussions with any third parties that this is anything but a project not authorized by or on behalf of Sydney Pollack.

Thank you. Barry

Hi Barry

Alan is pulling the directed by credit to Sydney off the film. He had planned to give him a producer credit as well ("produced by Alan Elliott, Sydney Pollack and Jerry Wexler"—order for illustrative purposes only, not final).

Do you also want Alan to remove the produced by credit?

Subject: Greetings...

To: Barry Tyerman <BTyerman@jtwamm.com>

Barry: I am one of the attorneys working with Alan Elliott on the Aretha Franklin concert film project. I have been asked by our group to discuss with you the claim that you are making in reference to your client, the Estate of Sidney Pollack. I know this is not an opportune day to engage you, and you might feel that you have fully explained your position several times before. However, I come to you seeking some guidance as to the nature and validity of your claim. I have reviewed the emails you have written to Tom McGuire and Alan Elliott. I know also that at your request the Pollack name has been removed from the movie. I have studied the Quit Claim Deed from Warner Bros., and the existing paperwork concerning Mr. Pollack's payment for the work he performed on this project. I want to accord you every respect, and I feel that there must be something in your possession that we have not seen. It would be of genuine assistance to all of us if you could provide the basis for your claim with the documentation you are relying on. I assure you I will give this matter the priority it deserves. As we all say on occasion, time is of the essence. Cordially, Todd here are the highlights (and below more extended). this is ALL i have between barry and me. i will start looking to see if i have more from tom or jordan or you.

Todd W. Musburger

august 17, 2015:

As to the use of Mr. Pollack's name and image, Warners will confirm to you that they did not purport to grant any such rights and, whatever his legal position, Mr. Elliott has volunteered to remove Mr. Pollack's unauthorized and inappropriate credit. Perhaps this is another commitment which he is "reconsidering?

Since you have ignored our efforts to address this situation amicably we have no recourse but to engage with Warner Bros., the directors Guild of America and the representatives of Ms. Aretha Franklin and the owners of the underlying musical and other materials to shut down your rogue activities. Presumably you have and will advise the representatives of the Toronto and will advise the representatives of the Toronto International Film Festival of the serious claims of various interested parties and the accountability of the Festival and all other parties in the chain of any unlawful exploitation of these rights. Please confirm that the Festival has been so advised.

Not only would exhibition of the film violate various statutory and common law rights of our clients, but also constitute a serious and direct violation of the provisions of the applicable agreements of the Directors Guild of America including relating to creative rights and credits and formal grievances are being initiated.

The foregoing obviously is not a complete exposition of the claims against you and any and all other parties participating in the unlawful exploitation of these rights and all rights, positions and remedies are expressly reserved.

july 14, 2015

What you have sent me purports to be an internal Warner Bros. memorandum, not anything like a contract. Neither Sydney nor any representative is even copied on this. If this is what you are relying on for rights, your reliance obviously is wildly unjustified. All rights, positions and remedies reserved. Barry

If you will not voluntarily withdraw any exhibition of the film, including in Toronto, we will be required to take our own legal will measures. We are specifically instructed to protect the Sydney Pollack name and not permit its use without authorization nor without the rights of Aretha Franklin being addressed. No matter how good you may believe the film is (not surprising given Sydney's involvement, but it is a misrepresentation to say the completed film was misrepresentation to say the completed film was "Directed By" him), we will not permit you to gloss over these serious legal issues.

All rights, positions and remedies reserved. Barry

june 16, 2015

With due respect Sydney Pollack has ultimate rights to this film and, as his longtime attorney and Trustee for his beneficiaries, I hereby instruct you to cease and desist immediately from any further use of his name on or in connection with this project. You and any other person or entity violating his rights will be held fully accountable. Barry

I am not interested in "opening any cans of worms". Only to protect the rights of Sydney Pollack, both economic and creative. And to make sure that his work is not exploited without those issues being addressed and not over the legal or other objections of Aretha Franklin. He would never have countenanced that and was very clear that her rights needed to be addressed before this work could be exploited in any manner. If you have contracts to establish that she has given that permission, it is imperative that those be shared urgently (as well as any documentation of any arrangements with Sydney Pollack).

To be clear, you have no rights to utilize any of the rights of Sydney Pollack, including his name (and certainly not to credit this film as being "Directed by Pollack"), without further written agreement from his successors.

All of this is not exhaustive and is without prejudice to the other rights, positions and remedies of Mr. Pollack's successors.

successors.

Sydney was not correct. there is a contract with Aretha and warner 7arts.

(ps Sydney also failed to mention that the reason the film never got made was because he couldn't sync up the visuals the audio! a small... but important detail.)

I am very hopeful… That Aretha will have a come to Jesus moment at some point… And we are in constant contact… But I am relying on the contract.

thank you.

hey barry

as John Calley quite clearly yelled at me at a certain point… "Do you think I would send Sydney Pollack to go film Aretha Franklin if there wasn't a release?!"

the answer is:

there is.

Aretha signed a personal service contract with warner 7 arts (The film company) which wb and Sydney relied upon to make the film.

the man whose responsibility it was to secure all releases for filming, joe Boyd, (joe was director of film music at wb in 1972) has signed a letter re-stating these facts.

as jerry wexler always implored me to do, "check what's in the contract!" (we did, and that's what we are relying upon.)

thank you.

In your response you did not address the issue of the Aretha Franklin rights. Have you made an arrangement with her? And is there a deal with the record label? There is absolutely no way that the Sydney Pollack rights will be cleared, including any possibility of the film being attributed to him (the whole notion of "Directed by Sydney Pollack" is an issue), unless and until all of this has been worked through and fully documented.

Given the various items to be resolved, all rights, positions and remedies are expressly reserved.

as discussed I am taking the film to premiere at telluride.

as of now I am planning on:

directed by Sydney pollack

produced by Sydney pollack and alan Elliott

if the girls have any issues or concerns, please have them contact me. I will try to do what they feel is appropriate re credits.

and if there's any documentation or... anything else that I should know about re: the iteration of the project Sydney and I started on in 2007... or anything from the passed (I'd be very interested to see the 1997 file!) please send it over and let's discuss.

hope this finds you well.

I reviewed my file on the project and was reminded that in 1997 we were discussing a possible deal with Warner Bros. but it was not ever completed or executed. The broad strokes were that Warners had proposed a $150,000 fee and 50% of the net to Sydney Pollack but we responded that Sydney was obviously a “1st dollar gross” participant and therefore a split of traditional net profits would not work. We had also discussed at the time a direct soundtrack album royalty from Warners on the presumed rerelease of the Aretha Franklin record project and a greater share of home video.

We would also need to discuss and agree how Sydney's work would be credited; given that tragically he was not around to complete the film, simply billing this as "Directed by Sydney Pollack" would be potentially misleading and inappropriate. Prior to any public exhibition I would expect you to extend the courtesy to Mr. Pollack's heirs of their seeing the film and having the right to comment.

And finally have you "made peace" with Aretha Franklin? Sydney clearly would not countenance the film being released in any way without her creative and economic rights and interests being taken into account.

I look forward to your thoughts as a priority.

Sydney obviously produced and directed the original production and no rights were granted to anyone in the results and proceeds of those services. As a result, the film may not be commercially or otherwise exploited in any manner whatsoever unless and until a full and complete agreement is negotiated for those rights, which would include financial arrangements as well as appropriate approvals and controls on the part of Sydney's heirs.

Where are you on the project overall? And specifically where are you with Aretha Franklin?

You will recall our discussions and correspondence a number of years back concerning this project. At that time it was understood and documented that the project would not proceed unless and until we discussed and agreed mutually acceptable economic and other terms for the Sydney Pollack rights. Also, as we discussed, this would all be conditional on your clearing the Aretha Franklin rights, possibly among other individuals appearing in the film and/or on the soundtrack.

Our curiosity was piqued by the attached article which was forwarded to us. Can you please give me an update as to where you are on all this? Thanks. Barry

Hello Alan. Donna Ostroff from Sydney Pollack's office has relayed that Mr. Pollack has authorized Barry to release the Amazing Grace legal file to Alan Elliott or to me. I'd like to arrange to stop by the office, or if it's more convenient for Barry, have the file sent to my office. The project is moving quickly so it would be helpful if we could make arrangements as soon as possible. All Best, Jordan

WHY DOESN'T ARETHA PAY HER BILLS?
THE WORLD KNOWS FRANKLIN IS RICH, FAMOUS, A GREAT SINGER, A DETROIT ICON. BUT BAD CREDIT IS TARNISHING HER GOLDEN LUSTER.

Byline/Affiliation:
DAVID ZEMAN, BRIAN MCCOLLUM AND L.L. BRASIER
Free Press Staff Writers

PubDate: Monday, 2/15/1999

Aretha Franklin has won more Grammys than any woman and was among the first inductees into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame. She owns grand homes in Detroit's posh suburbs and has earned millions from recordings, concerts, films and book contracts.

So why won't she pay her plumber?

Or her florist? Or, for that matter, her caterer, dentists, accountants, lawyers, songwriter, music arranger, moving company, landlords, dressmaker, limo drivers, tax collectors, landscaper, home inspector or even the guardian for her mentally ill son?

Since 1988, more than 30 lawsuits have been filed against Franklin in Oakland and Wayne counties by people seeking payment on bills. In most cases, Franklin paid only after being taken to court, most recently in January.

She and her aides tried to avoid some suits, turning away process servers from palatial homes in Bloomfield Hills and Bloomfield Township. Some creditors gave up. In other cases, Franklin ignored court judgments, forcing them to seek liens on homes or assets.

"I made it as easy for her as I could," Dean Pitcairn, former owner of Hilton Limousine in Ferndale, said of his suit to recoup nearly $1,900 from Franklin in 1991.

"I think it was the type of thing where they felt if they prolonged it long enough, we would forget about them. It just made me mad because everyone thinks she's a big hero, and she doesn't think twice about stepping on little people."

Franklin, her lawyers and publicists declined to be interviewed for this article, though one noted that Franklin gives generously to good causes.

And that's the puzzle: that a woman who regularly contributes her time and talents to charity, a beloved star with roots in gospel music, can show such disregard for those she owes money to.

While some creditors dismiss Franklin as a spoiled diva, those who have known her for years say the answer is more complicated -- that her lapses may be explained by a distrust of outsiders and deep personal loss.

"She's a wonderful artist who shouldn't be handling her own business, but she does," said Wayne County Circuit Judge Harvey Tennen, who represented Franklin in the 1980s and believes she is overwhelmed by her financial affairs.

"She just doesn't have time for it and she doesn't realize the kind of bad press she gets from not dealing with things like that. She needs a manager, she needs a lawyer, she needs professionals. But she usually doesn't talk to them until it's too late."

Franklin's reputation as a mercurial and enigmatic personality is a common, if hushed, topic in the music industry.

In 1988, Franklin failed to show up to sing for the second of singer George Michael's concerts at the Palace. Four years earlier, she backed out of a Broadway musical based on the life of Mahalia Jackson, for which a judge later ordered her to pay $230,000 to the show's producer.

Franklin has also sometimes chewed out musicians -- onstage -- during concerts when she felt their playing wasn't up to snuff.

Many industry insiders requested anonymity for this article because, despite her financial reputation, the music superstar is viewed in Detroit with honor, even reverence. Unlike many Detroiters who became celebrities and left even reverence. Unlike many Detroiters who became celebrities and left, Franklin has lived in the area nearly all her life and is beloved by its residents. It's that same hometown clout, some say, that has allowed her to ignore some debts.

"That was her style. She was above all the mundane activity of paying bills," said David Greenbaum, Franklin's accountant until 1992, when his firm sued Franklin. "She was an artist."

Possible reasons

Tennen and others say Franklin, 56, won't delegate her business affairs because she finds it difficult to trust others. It's a wariness, they say, born of a failed first marriage -- which reportedly included physical abuse -- and exposure to the music industry at a young age. "People have taken advantage of her her whole life," Tennen said.

Others say Franklin assumed more control of her finances after the loss of her father and brother, who served as protective and guiding figures in her career and business affairs.

The Rev. C.L. Franklin died in 1984 after several years in a coma. Aretha Franklin, who returned to Detroit from Los Angeles to be with him, is said to have spent more than $300,000 on his care. Brother-manager Cecil Franklin died in 1989.

"When the two people you trust and count on are gone, suddenly you're on your own," said Larry Robinson, owner of God's World record store in Detroit. "And suddenly you're working in areas you don't care much about. You love to sing -- not do taxes."

In 1996, Robinson's store helped sell tickets for a Christmas concert Franklin hosted at her late father's New Bethel Baptist Church. Because of a miscalculation by Franklin and church staff, about 1,000 extra tickets were sold -- at $17.50 each -- leaving a seething swarm of gospel lovers literally out in the cold.

Some people say such goof-ups can be blamed on the flimsy infrastructure of Franklin's camp, a loose-knit coterie of attorneys, publicists and personal coordinators who leave many details in Franklin's hands.

"She really needs somebody else to serve as a buffer," Robinson said. "She's not a bad person. But when you're trying to play every position on the team -- catching and throwing -- it's going to be rough."

Speculation over Franklin's failure to pay bills has become something of a parlor game among the people who have sued her. Her creditors are like a loosely constructed support group; they make condolence calls to new members and swap stories about efforts to collect from the singer.

Rather small amounts

It's not unusual for celebrities to be magnets for lawsuits from plaintiffs looking for a big payday. But the majority of cases against Franklin are for less than $4,000.

And in interviews with more than 20 people who have sued Franklin, some said they were reluctant plaintiffs. It was not merely the expense of litigation that bothered them. Manysaid they were fans of Franklin and admired her contributions to music and to Detroit.

Frank Winton, who owned Mark of Excellence Catering in Southfield, sued Franklin in 1988 over a $2,300 bill for four parties, including one for her birthday. He put off suing for months and hesitated to mention the debt when he saw her at social functions.

"She did a lot of charity work, and I didn't want to embarrass her," Winton said.

Other creditors waited years.

In 1994, Franklin booked seven rooms at the Westin Hotel in Detroit for a scholarship dinner. When her credit-card company wouldn't pay, the hotel sent invoices to Franklin.

In 1997 -- 28 months later -- the Westin sued. The hotel needed a judge's help to reach Franklin, who avoided a process server. She was later ordered to pay $1,068. She didn't. Westin tried in vain to seize Franklin's wages from Arista, her record label. A Westin lawyer declined to say if Westin ever collected.

Other creditors said their respect for Franklin dissolved when it became clear she would not pay.

"Hey, she should have to pay her bills like everyone else," said Bob Beutel of All Star Limousine in Royal Oak, which recently collected a $3,652 bill from last summer. Beutel said competitors warned him about Franklin. He said his own lawyer told him, "It's not a matter of if, it's just a matter of when she's going to stiff you."

So every time Franklin used All Star, the driver made her sign a contract promising that if her bill went to court she would pay All Star's legal fees. It did, and she did.

Even so, Beutel said, chasing old bills can wear on a small business.

"How'd you like to go two weeks without being paid? And now you have to bug people about money and they tell you, 'Hey, I'll give it to you next week,' and they don't?"

Discounts, too

Some merchants felt betrayed after babying Franklin with sweet deals, liberal credit or rushed deliveries.

"We gave her a great price," said Bruce Bolton of Breath of Spring Florist in Bloomfield Hills, which sued over $1,111 for flowers sent to a 1995 Christmas party.

"Sometimes, you write these things off," he said. "But I think I just felt that she does this to so many people and I didn't want to be among the people she did it to."

In 1988, Orville Brown of Flatrock Bagging rushed a special order of white sand to her swimming pool for a luau. His lawyer said Brown also gave the singer a discount. Invoices were mailed later, with no response.

"Flatrock Bagging is a family-owned deal," said the attorney, Murdoch Hertzog. "This guy is just good as gold. Here he went out of his way to help her make a fine, wonderful event -- and he got stuck."

And then there is attorney Suzanne Dreifus, who in 1989 was appointed guardian for Franklin's adult son, Clarence, a chronic paranoid schizophrenic. Two years later, when Franklin fell more than $10,000 behind in paying Dreifus for finding foster homes for her son, visiting him and arranging for his medical care, Dreifus sued.

"Her attorney simply said to me, 'She's not going to pay you,' " Dreifus recalled. Dreifus called her own lawyer. "I told him if they come up with 10 cents less, don't even call me.... It was a matter of principle."

But the Aretha Franklin creditors describe is not the woman Tennen, her former lawyer, knows.

Tennen was introduced to Franklin in the early 1980s by her brother,Cecil.

When Franklin asked Tennen to represent her, he told her he had never represented an entertainer.

"So she bought two sets of encyclopedias on entertainment law and gave one to me," Tennen said. "And she said to me, 'We'll learn together, Harvey.' "

"I was always honored to represent her," he said.

"On the other hand, she needed help."

Per the insured's request, I want to confirm that we aware of the contract attached and that the insured is relying on this contract/document to make this film. We have vetted it's validity and are satisfied it is acceptable and therefore have not placed any special exclusions on the policy that would prohibit coverage under the policy . Of course, there are standard insurance policy terms, conditions and exclusion that apply regardless and we could never confirm or deny any coverage in advance as each and every claims sencerio is unique and must be evaluated on the specific facts and circumstances of the case. But again, the quote does not contain a chain of tile exclusion or any other specific exclusion involving this project and we recognize the Atlantic records indemnification letter in the Warner contract to be valid. Please note we have not yet cleared the title, as a title report and legal opinion has not been received to date.

Please let me know if you have any further questions.

Best,
Joann

it was (technically) produced by warners.

elements of the project have been released at least twice that we know of:

1) the atlantic 25th anniversary film, made with braverman productions <image001.png>
2) aretha franklin; the queen of soul (august 22, 1988)
(http://www.imdb.com/title/tt0210537/)

4. If not previously released please advise who produced it and who currently owns the copyright and what agreements are in place with this applicant.

the current iteration of the footage is owned by me with quitclaim from warner bors. films.

5. Did they obtain rights from Warner Brothers?

yes.

6. Did they obtain rights from Atlantic Records?

none needed, as per atlantic/warner music group.

7. Did Aretha Franklin participate in this production?

yes

Dear Laura,
I request that AON go back to Hiscox and have them reconsider providing coverage for the claim originally submitted in 2015.
When Hiscox declined coverage, it was because Hiscox claimed I had, after intensive vetted phone calls, emails and discussions with both Hiscox and with AON, failed to disclose previous issues with Ms. Franklin and that I answered the following question incorrectly:
"Have you suffered any loss or has any claim, whether successful or not, ever been made against you that would be covered by this insurance."
Hiscox and AON specifically directed me to answer the question "no." In discussions I had with both Hiscox's counsel Ted Gerdes, as well as AON's Stephen Carroll, we specifically reviewed the 2011 lawsuit and the personal service contract obtained in 2013 when considering how to answer the question. Thus, the answer was discussed and deliberated with both the carrier and the broker.
Because of the 2013 discovery of the personal service contract, AON/Hiscox vetted the contract and when the question came up, everyone was aware of the prior issues and they were satisfied with the enforceability of the personal service contract, which was evinced in the answer.
Coinciding with the time of Hiscox's exclusion of Aretha Franklin in 2015, I made a deal with Ms. Franklin's counsel that would nullify any issues. Because of this deal, I did not fight Hiscox.
However, after more than 15 months of negotiations, Ms. Franklin has declined two fully negotiated contracts that were approved and generated by and with her counsel. Both offers were OVER and above what Ms. Franklin and her counsel asked for. Ms. Franklin has since fired her counsel and I have no hope that she will accept any offer. Because Ms. Franklin refuses to negotiate any further, this leaves me no other option but to reopen the case in Denver.
The fundamental and virtually singular reason for my Hiscox insurance was because of Ms. Franklin's volatility. Insurance would allow me to defend and enforce Ms. Franklin's contract, which was recently discovered (in 2013) by Warner Films. Hiscox directed me to discuss these matters with Ted Gerdes, I specifically told Mr. Gerdes about the 2011 lawsuit, providing him with links in emails to the "cease and desist" settlement which resulted from the lawsuit.
As this film deals with one of the more well known personalities in the world in Ms. Franklin, a woman who is known for her controversial and public disposition and litigious behavior, it is not credible that Hiscox can say, after the intensive application process that we went through, that they had no knowledge.
To remind from where the confusion/untangling emanated:
In 2011, Ms. Franklin filed a very public lawsuit against me, preventing the film from being exhibited.
In 2013, Warner Films discovered Ms. Franklin's personal service contract, which plainly allowed me to distribute the film.

The 2011 lawsuit was settled out of court, I suffered no loss. This 2011 claim was not something that would be covered by this insurance as we now had a signed contract from Ms. Franklin, one that had been used to make and distribute the film.
Importantly, all communications were done with knowledge by Hiscox/AON that the personal service contract and specifically the “indemnification letter” on page 2 of Ms. Franklin's personal service contract (which states: “We do hereby undertake and agree to hold and save you harmless of, from and against any loss, cost, damage or expense which may arise or result from said agreement, and we further agree that we will, upon demand, reimburse you for any cost, liability, or expense which you may incur or any payment which you make in accordance with, or as a result of, such agreement.”) would serve as the “insurance for the insurance."
The muddiness of these events (Ms. Franklin suing me and hoping I would never find- or enforce her personal service contract) led my counsel and AON/Hiscox to dutifully consider the question, and it is disingenuous for Hiscox to claim otherwise.
Thank you.

Dear Laura,

I request that AON go back to Hiscox and have them reconsider providing coverage for the claim originally submitted in 2015.

When Hiscox declined coverage, it was because Hiscox claimed I had, after intensive vetted phone calls, emails and discussions with both Hiscox and with AON, failed to disclose previous issues with Ms. Franklin and that I answered the following question incorrectly:

"Have you suffered any loss or has any claim, whether successful or not, ever been made against you that would be covered by this insurance."

Hiscox and AON specifically directed me to answer the question "no." In discussions I had with both Hiscox's counsel Ted Gerdes, as well as AON's Stephen Carroll, we specifically reviewed the 2011 lawsuit and the personal service contract obtained in 2013 when considering how to answer the question. Thus, the answer was discussed and deliberated with both the carrier and the broker.

Because of the 2013 discovery of the personal service contract, AON/Hiscox vetted the contract and when the question came up, everyone was aware of the prior issues and they were satisfied with the enforceability of the personal service contract, which was evinced in the answer.

Coinciding with the time of Hiscox's exclusion of Aretha Franklin in 2015, I made a deal with Ms. Franklin's counsel that would nullify any issues. Because of this deal, I did not fight Hiscox.

However, after more than 15 months of negotiations, Ms. Franklin has declined two fully negotiated contracts that were approved and generated by and with her counsel. Both offers were OVER and above what Ms. Franklin and her counsel asked for. Ms. Franklin has since fired her counsel and I have no hope that she will accept any offer. Because Ms. Franklin refuses to negotiate any further, this leaves me no other option but to reopen the case in Denver.

The fundamental and virtually singular reason for my Hiscox insurance was because of Ms. Franklin's volatility. Insurance would allow me to defend and enforce Ms. Franklin's contract, which was recently discovered (in 2013) by Warner Films. Hiscox directed me to discuss these matters with Ted Gerdes, I specifically told Mr. Gerdes about the 2011 lawsuit, providing him with links in emails to the "cease and desist" settlement which resulted from the lawsuit.

As this film deals with one of the more well known personalities in the world in Ms. Franklin, a woman who is known for her controversial and public disposition and litigious behavior, it is not credible that Hiscox can say, after the intensive application process that we went through, that they had no knowledge.

To remind from where the confusion/untangling emanated:

In 2011, Ms. Franklin filed a very public lawsuit against me, preventing the film from being exhibited.

In 2013, Warner Films discovered Ms. Franklin's personal service contract, which plainly allowed me to distribute the film.

The 2011 lawsuit was settled out of court, I suffered no loss. This 2011 claim was not something that would be covered by this insurance as we now had a signed contract from Ms. Franklin, one that had been used to make and distribute the film.

Importantly, all communications were done with knowledge by Hiscox/AON that the personal service contract and specifically the "indemnification letter" on page 2 of Ms. Franklin's personal service contract (which states: "We do hereby undertake and agree to hold and save you harmless of, from and against any loss, cost, damage or expense which may arise or result from said agreement, and we further agree that we will, upon demand, reimburse you for any cost, liability, or expense which you may incur or any payment which you make in accordance with, or as a result of, such agreement.") would serve as the “insurance for the insurance."

The muddiness of these events (Ms. Franklin suing me and hoping I would never find- or enforce her personal service contract) led my counsel and AON/Hiscox to dutifully consider the question, and it is disingenuous for Hiscox to claim otherwise.

Thank you.

Alan

Subject: Re: amazing grace, LP00013 -- Loss -- Aretha Franklin Claim

Dear Laura,
I request that AON go back to Hiscox and have them reconsider providing coverage for the claim originally submitted in 2015.
When Hiscox declined coverage, it was because Hiscox claimed I had, after intensive vetted phone calls, emails and discussions with both Hiscox and with AON, failed to disclose previous issues with Ms. Franklin and that I answered the following question incorrectly:
"Have you suffered any loss or has any claim, whether successful or not, ever been made against you that would be covered by this insurance."
Hiscox and AON specifically directed me to answer the question "no." In discussions I had with both Hiscox's counsel Ted Gerdes, as well as AON's Stephen Carroll, we specifically reviewed the 2011 lawsuit and the personal service contract obtained in 2013 when considering how to answer the question. Thus, the answer was discussed and deliberated with both the carrier and the broker.
Because of the 2013 discovery of the personal service contract, AON/Hiscox vetted the contract and when the question came up, everyone was aware of the prior issues and they were satisfied with the enforceability of the personal service contract, which was evinced in the answer.
Coinciding with the time of Hiscox's exclusion of Aretha Franklin in 2015, I made a deal with Ms. Franklin's counsel that would nullify any issues. Because of this deal, I did not fight Hiscox.
However, after more than 15 months of negotiations, Ms. Franklin has declined two fully negotiated contracts that were approved and generated by and with her counsel. Both offers were OVER and above what Ms. Franklin and her counsel asked for. Ms. Franklin has since fired her counsel and I have no hope that she will accept any offer. Because Ms. Franklin refuses to negotiate any further, this leaves me no other option but to reopen the case in Denver.
The fundamental and virtually singular reason for my Hiscox insurance was because of Ms. Franklin's volatility. Insurance would allow me to defend and enforce Ms. Franklin's contract, which was recently discovered (in 2013) by Warner Films. Hiscox directed me to discuss these matters with Ted Gerdes, I specifically told Mr. Gerdes about the 2011 lawsuit, providing him with links in emails to the "cease and desist" settlement which resulted from the lawsuit.
As this film deals with one of the more well known personalities in the world in Ms. Franklin, a woman who is known for her controversial and public disposition and litigious behavior, it is not credible that Hiscox can say, after the intensive application process that we went through, that they had no knowledge.
To remind from where the confusion/untangling emanated:
In 2011, Ms. Franklin filed a very public lawsuit against me, preventing the film from being exhibited.
In 2013, Warner Films discovered Ms. Franklin's personal service contract, which plainly allowed me to distribute the film.
The 2011 lawsuit was settled out of court, I suffered no loss. This 2011 claim was not something that would be covered by this insurance as we now had a signed contract from Ms. Franklin, one that had been used to make and distribute the film.

which you may incur or any payment which you make in accordance with, or as a result of, such agreement.") would serve as the "insurance for the insurance." The muddiness of these events (Ms. Franklin suing me and hoping I would never find- or enforce her personal service contract) led my counsel and AON/Hiscox to dutifully consider the question, and it is disingenuous for Hiscox to claim otherwise.
Thank you.
Alan

In discussions I had with both Hiscox's counsel Ted Gerdes, as well as AON's Stephen Carroll, we specifically reviewed the 2011 lawsuit and the personal service contract obtained in 2013 when considering how to answer the question. Thus, the answer was discussed and deliberated with both the carrier and the broker.

Because of the 2013 discovery of the personal service contract, AON/Hiscox vetted the contract and when the question came up, everyone was aware of the prior issues and they were satisfied with the enforceability of the personal service contract, which was evinced in the answer.
Coinciding with the time of Hiscox's exclusion of Aretha Franklin in 2015, I made a deal with Ms. Franklin's counsel that would nullify any issues. Because of this deal, I did not fight Hiscox.
However, after more than 15 months of negotiations, Ms. Franklin has declined two fully negotiated contracts that were approved and generated by and with her counsel. Both offers were OVER and above what Ms. Franklin and her counsel asked for. Ms. Franklin has since fired her counsel and I have no hope that she will accept any offer. Because Ms. Franklin refuses to negotiate any further, this leaves me no other option but to reopen the case in Denver.
The fundamental and virtually singular reason for my Hiscox insurance was because of Ms. Franklin's volatility. Insurance would allow me to defend and enforce Ms. Franklin's contract, which was recently discovered (in 2013) by Warner Films. Hiscox directed me to discuss these matters with Ted Gerdes, I specifically told Mr. Gerdes about the 2011 lawsuit, providing him with links in emails to the "cease and desist" settlement which resulted from the lawsuit.
As this film deals with one of the more well known personalities in the world in Ms. Franklin, a woman who is known for her controversial and public disposition and litigious behavior, it is not credible that Hiscox can say, after the intensive application process that we went through, that they had no knowledge.
To remind from where the confusion/untangling emanated:
In 2011, Ms. Franklin filed a very public lawsuit against me, preventing the film from being exhibited.
In 2013, Warner Films discovered Ms. Franklin's personal service contract, which plainly allowed me to distribute the film.
The 2011 lawsuit was settled out of court, I suffered no loss. This 2011 claim was not something that would be covered by this insurance as we now had a signed contract from Ms. Franklin, one that had been used to make and distribute the film.
Importantly, all communications were done with knowledge by Hiscox/AON that the personal service contract and specifically the "indemnification letter" on page 2 of Ms. Franklin's personal service contract (which states: "We do hereby undertake and agree to hold and save you harmless of, from and against any loss, cost, damage or expense which may arise or result from said agreement, and we further agree that we will, upon demand, reimburse you for any cost, liability, or expense which you may incur or any payment which you make in accordance with, or as a result of, such agreement.") would serve as the "insurance for the insurance."
The muddiness of these events (Ms. Franklin suing me and hoping I would never find- or enforce her personal service contract) led my counsel and AON/Hiscox to dutifully consider the question, and it is disingenuous for Hiscox to claim otherwise.
Thank you.

Dear Laura,
I request that AON go back to Hiscox and have them reconsider providing coverage for the claim originally submitted in 2015.
When Hiscox declined coverage, it was because Hiscox claimed I had, after intensive vetted phone calls, emails and discussions with both Hiscox and with AON, failed to disclose previous issues with Ms. Franklin and that I answered the following question incorrectly:
"Have you suffered any loss or has any claim, whether successful or not, ever been made against you that would be covered by this insurance."

Thus, the answer was discussed and deliberated with both the carrier and the broker.
Because of the 2013 discovery of the personal service contract, AON/Hiscox vetted the contract and when the question came up, everyone was aware of the prior issues and they were satisfied with the enforceability of the personal service contract, which was evinced in the answer.
Coinciding with the time of Hiscox's exclusion of Aretha Franklin in 2015, I made a deal with Ms. Franklin's counsel that would nullify any issues. Because of this deal, I did not fight Hiscox.
However, after more than 15 months of negotiations, Ms. Franklin has declined two fully negotiated contracts that were approved and generated by and with her counsel. Both offers were OVER and above what Ms. Franklin and her counsel asked for. Ms. Franklin has since fired her counsel and I have no hope that she will accept any offer. Because Ms. Franklin refuses to negotiate any further, this leaves me no other option but to reopen the case in Denver.
The fundamental and virtually singular reason for my Hiscox insurance was because of Ms. Franklin's volatility. Insurance would allow me to defend and enforce Ms. Franklin's contract, which was recently discovered (in 2013) by Warner Films. Hiscox directed me to discuss these matters with Ted Gerdes. I specifically told Mr

2015) by Warner Films. Hiscox directed me to discuss these matters with Ted Gerdes, I specifically told Mr. Gerdes about the 2011 lawsuit, providing him with links in emails to the “cease and desist” settlement which resulted from the lawsuit.
As this film deals with one of the more well known personalities in the world in Ms. Franklin, a woman who is known for her controversial and public disposition and litigious behavior, it is not credible that Hiscox can say, after the intensive application process that we went through, that they had no knowledge.
To remind from where the confusion/untangling emanated:
In 2011, Ms. Franklin filed a very public lawsuit against me, preventing the film from being exhibited.
In 2013, Warner Films discovered Ms. Franklin’s personal service contract, which plainly allowed me to distribute the film.
The 2011 lawsuit was settled out of court, I suffered no loss. This 2011 claim was not something that would be covered by this insurance as we now had a signed contract from Ms. Franklin, one that had been used to make and distribute the film.
Importantly, all communications were done with knowledge by Hiscox/AON that the personal service contract and specifically the “indemnification letter” on page 2 of Ms. Franklin's personal service contract (which states: “We do hereby undertake and agree to hold and save you harmless of, from and against any loss, cost, damage or expense which may arise or result from said agreement, and we further agree that we will, upon demand, reimburse you for any cost, liability, or expense which you may incur or any payment which you make in accordance with, or as a result of, such agreement.”) would serve as the “insurance for the insurance."
The muddiness of these events (Ms. Franklin suing me and hoping I would never find- or enforce her personal service contract) led my counsel and AON/Hiscox to dutifully consider the question, and it is disingenuous for Hiscox to claim otherwise.
Thank you.
Alan

Hi Alan

Per our conversation, you would like to go back to Hiscox and have them reconsider providing coverage for the claim originally submitted in 2015. Please confirm via this e-mail and provide any new details and reason behind your disagreement with carrier, specifically that the claim presented was not related to the 2011 claim and why. Maria will then get in contact with Hiscox and see what they say.

Thanks,

Laura

theatrical, vod, dvd, television

3. Was it previously produced and released and now they're re-releasing it?

it was (technically) produced by warners.

elements of the project have been released at least twice that we know of:

1) the atlantic 25th anniversary film, made with braverman productions <image001.png>
2) aretha franklin; the queen of soul (august 22, 1988) (http://www.imdb.com/title/tt0210537/)

4. If not previously released please advise who produced it and who currently owns the copyright and what agreements are in place with this applicant.

the current iteration of the footage is owned by me with quitclaim from warner bors. films.

5. Did they obtain rights from Warner Brothers?

yes.

6. Did they obtain rights from Atlantic Records?

none needed, as per atlantic/warner music group.

7. Did Aretha Franklin participate in this production?

yes

Alan: I got the following indication from Axis:

Full/Wide theatrical release:
$1m/$3m $25k SIR $15,539 3 year policy with TOIE

Limited theatrical release:
$1m/$3m $25k SIR $7,063 3 year term with TOIE

All forms of non-theatrical release:
$1m/$3m $25k SIR $4,528 3 year term with TOIE.

Unfortunately on this type of risk we cannot offer music coverage as the artist should have own coverage.

Clearly Hiscox is the way to go. Give me a call to discuss.

Hi Alan,

It is en route.

Forgive us- for some reason it was held Thursday- when i expected it to go out- and it went out Friday instead.

Really embarrassed.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

You have asked us to provide you with a new proposal. Our goal is to obtain the appropriate insurance coverage, at the most competitive price. We approached Hiscox who specializes in this type of insurance coverage. Please refer to the Quote Disclosure Report attached, which outlines our commission for the quoted coverage. If you wish to bind coverage as outlined in this proposal, please check the lines of coverage you are accepting and sign the Acknowledgment and Approval of Insured below.

Acknowledgment and Approval of Insured

We hereby acknowledge receipt and review of the information presented in the New Proposal ("Proposal") dated 7/8/2015 for Errors & Omissions and provided in the attached Quote Disclosure Report dated 7/8/2015. We hereby instruct Aon/Albert G. Ruben Insurance Services, Inc. (AGR) to bind the insurance program(s) selected by us and understand that our instruction to bind constitutes an acceptance of the terms and conditions and payments described in this Proposal, including ARS U.S. Business Terms. We consent to the procedure whereby Aon will place or renew additional policies we are likely to need in the twelve months following this program inception with the insurer we have selected. We understand that Aon will advise us of any variances in premium rates, coverages, terms or conditions applicable to additional placed policies prior to binding them for our approval.

This insurance document is furnished to you as a matter of information for your convenience. It only summarizes the listed proposed policy(ies) and is not intended to reflect all the terms and conditions or exclusions of such proposed policy(ies). Moreover, the information contained in this document reflects proposed coverage as of the effective date(s) of the proposed policy(ies) and does not include subsequent changes. This document is not an insurance policy and does not amend, alter or extend the coverage afforded by the listed proposed policy(ies). The insurance afforded by the listed proposed policy(ies) is subject to all the terms, exclusions and conditions of such policy(ies).
The services and placements outlined in this proposal will be provided in accordance with the terms of the notices and policies set forth in the ARS US Business Terms.

thank you.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

You have asked us to provide you with a new proposal. Our goal is to obtain the appropriate insurance coverage, at the most competitive price. We approached Hiscox who specializes in this type of insurance coverage. Please refer to the Quote Disclosure Report attached, which outlines our commission for the quoted coverage. If you wish to bind coverage as outlined in this proposal, please check the lines of coverage you are accepting and sign the Acknowledgment and Approval of Insured below.

Acknowledgment and Approval of Insured

We hereby acknowledge receipt and review of the information presented in the New Proposal (“Proposal”) dated 7/8/2015 for Errors & Omissions and provided in the attached Quote Disclosure Report dated 7/8/2015. We hereby instruct Aon/Albert G. Ruben Insurance Services, Inc. (AGR) to bind the insurance program(s) selected by us and understand that our instruction to bind constitutes an acceptance of the terms and conditions and payments described in this Proposal, including ARS U.S. Business Terms. We consent to the procedure whereby Aon will place or renew additional policies we are likely to need in the twelve months following this program inception with the insurer we have selected. We understand that Aon will advise us of any variances in premium rates, coverages, terms or conditions applicable to additional placed policies prior to binding them for our approval.

I need to get coverage on the "consents" for all that are on screen- from Aretha Franklin to the choir to the band.

I have separate releases for each- including Aretha's personal service contract with warner brothers.

can we get on the phone today with the insurance company so we can get that going please?

thank you.

hi stephen

per my conversation with joanne, i would like to bind coverage asap.

i would like, in the coverage, as also discussed with joanne, is for the following to be specifically delineated in the coverage:

- a statement from the hiscox that they are insuring the project, and those involved with the project, from all claims regarding the chain of title to the film.

- that there are no exclusions to the coverage and the term/cost of an extended policy, since the coverage needs to extend for the full length of all agreements.

(of course there are always exclusions for fraud, withholding pertinent information, etc.)

- that the Atlantic records indemnification letter in the warner contract is in effect.

thank you.

it was (technically) produced by warners.

elements of the project have been released at least twice that we know of:

1) the atlantic 25th anniversary film, made with braverman productions <image001.png>
2) aretha franklin; the queen of soul (august 22, 1988) (http://www.imdb.com/title/tt0210537/)

4. If not previously released please advise who produced it and who currently owns the copyright and what agreements are in place with this applicant.

the current iteration of the footage is owned by me with quitclaim from warner bors. films.

5. Did they obtain rights from Warner Brothers?

yes.

6. Did they obtain rights from Atlantic Records?

none needed, as per atlantic/warner music group.

7. Did Aretha Franklin participate in this production?

yes

finally responded to the submission and had the following questions. I apologize but would appreciate any clarification you can provide:

1. Is this a documentary, music video or something else?

documentary

2. What is the anticipated distribution/dissemination? theatrical release, TV special, etc…?

theatrical, vod, dvd, television

3. Was it previously produced and released and now they're re-releasing it?

it was (technically) produced by warners.

elements of the project have been released at least twice that we know of:

1) the atlantic 25th anniversary film, made with braverman productions <image001.png>
2) aretha franklin; the queen of soul (august 22, 1988) (http://www.imdb.com/title/tt0210537/)

4. If not previously released please advise who produced it and who currently owns the copyright and what agreements are in place with this applicant.

the current iteration of the footage is owned by me with quitclaim from warner bors. films.

5. Did they obtain rights from Warner Brothers?

yes.

6. Did they obtain rights from Atlantic Records?

none needed, as per atlantic/warner music group.

7. Did Aretha Franklin participate in this production?

yes

hi stephen

per my conversation with joanne, i would like to bind coverage asap.

i would like, in the coverage, as also discussed with joanne, is for the following to be specifically delineated in the coverage:

- a statement from the hiscox that they are insuring the project, and those involved with the project, from all claims regarding the chain of title to the film.

- that there are no exclusions to the coverage and the term/cost of an extended policy, since the coverage needs to extend for the full length of all agreements.

(of course there are always exclusions for fraud, withholding pertinent information, etc.)

- that the Atlantic records indemnification letter in the warner contract is in effect.

thank you.

hello stephen

i have been in touch with some attorneys about hiscox's declining of my coverage and, long story short, they find hiscox's position suspect.

i currently have an offer from a film company that would pay $2.3m- and over the lifetime of the contract (27 years) i believe the value should be at least 5x's that, which is what i may have to walk away from because of hiscox's position currently.

i would like to get your thoughts on how to best challenge hiscox to reinstate the policy asap and/or some referrals to litigators.

thank you.

Hi Stephen: Lionsgate has asked us to add the following as additional insureds on the existing policy:

1. "Summit Entertainment, LLC, each partner therein and division thereof, and its respective parents, subsidiaries, and related entities, its distributors, licensees and assigns, and the respective officers, directors, shareholders, employees and agents of the foregoing, 2700 Colorado Avenue, Suite 200, Santa Monica, CA 90404"

2. "Entertainment One UK Ltd., its parent, subsidiaries and all associated, affiliated and related entities, its successors, assigns, licensees, sub-distributors, sub-licensees, exhibitors, broadcasters and advertisers, and the officers, directors, shareholders, attorneys, agents and employees of each of the foregoing, 120 New Cavendish Street, London W1W 6XX"

3. "JP Morgan Chase Bank, 1 Chase Manhattan Plaza, New York, NY 10005"

Please let me know if you have any additional questions...Thanks, Todd

it was (technically) produced by warners.

elements of the project have been released at least twice that we know of:

1) the atlantic 25th anniversary film, made with braverman productions

2) aretha franklin; the queen of soul (august 22, 1988) (http://www.imdb.com/title/tt0210537/)

the current iteration of the footage is owned by me with quitclaim from warner bors. films.

yes.

none needed, as per atlantic/warner music group.

hey stephen

hello stephen:

i had a presumed deal with lionsgate films. the deal was for $2.3m and has fallen through because the sydney pollack estate has refused to further indemnify the film company.

lionsgate, down the stretch of the 8 month + negotiation asked us to “make peace” with barry tyerman- the attorney for the late sydney pollack (pollack died before the film was edited). lionsgate asked for a signed indemnification letter from the estate.

we had sold the film to lionsgate with full disclosure that mr. tyerman had asked me to remove mr. pollack’s name as director of the film prior to the film festival in telluride last year. i did as mr. tyerman asked, removed mr. pollack’s name from the film, and thought that would be the end (the film does NOT have the pollack name on it, nor did we ever warrant that we were selling a sydney pollack film).

to try to satisfy lionsgate, we prepared two separate letters (see below) in addition to the memo from warner films showing that pollack had been paid.

steve spira, the president of business affairs, has told me that mr. tyerman came to warner brothers looking for further payment. mr. spira told me that warners told mr. tyerman that according to mr. pollack’s contract, warners felt there was no further compensation due to the estate.

also, bryan unger, the dga’s associate national executive director, took the following position on behalf of the director’s guild:

all of this is to inform you of the situation.

we have other offers which are being negotiated. i have no plans to negotiate any further with mr. tyerman.

> Attached find a federal lawsuit filed early this morning on behalf of Aretha Franklin seeking an injunction to stop the public showing or release of the Film "Amazing Grace," which, based on public reports, is to be shown at 7:30 p.m in Telluride. We will be seeking an immediate audience with the Federal Court in Denver to protect Ms. Franklin's rights to her name and likeness. As the exhibits hereto show, the Producer of the film, Mr. Elliot, was never granted permission by Ms. Franklin to publicly show the film and publicly displaying any footage of Ms. Franklin's 1972 concert would be a significant violation of her rights as well as a violation of the federal anti-bootlegging statute.

Declaration

I, Aretha Franklin, do hereby swear and affirm that if called upon to testify, I would testify to the following including but not limited to:

a. That in 1972, I did a live recording of my album Amazing Grace at the New Missionary Baptist Church in Los Angeles, California.
b. That the recording of this album was videotaped.
c. That Mr. Alan Elliott, owner of Al's Tapes and Records claims to have purchased the rights to the film or footage of my 1972 performance at the New Missionary Baptist Church in Los Angeles, California.
d. That I have never given permission or entered into any agreement, verbal, written or otherwise with Alan Elliott, Al's Tapes & Records or any entity to exploit my name and or likeness for commercial purposes with regards to the "Amazing Grace" movie, or any film or footage of my 1972 performance at the New Missionary Baptist Church in Los Angeles, California.
e. That in spite of not having prior authorization, as referenced above, Mr. Alan Elliott has plans to release a movie based on my 1972 performance as mentioned above which exploits my name and likeness solely for commercial purposes

against the release and showing of the film, "Amazing Grace."

Ms. Franklin says she is taking legal action "because the film holders refuse to compensate me for my name and likeness in the film."
The internationally-acclaimed singer has hired the Detroit law firm, Dykema Gossett.

The film shows the making of Ms. Franklin's landmark gospel album, 'Amazing Grace," that she recorded in 1972. It remains the biggest selling gospel album of all time.

Per the insured's request, I want to confirm that we aware of the contract attached and that the insured is relying on this contract/document to make this film. We have vetted it's validity and are satisfied it is acceptable and therefore have not placed any special exclusions on the policy that would prohibit coverage under the policy . Of course, there are standard insurance policy terms, conditions and exclusion that apply regardless and we could never confirm or deny any coverage in advance as each and every claims sencerio is unique and must be evaluated on the specific facts and circumstances of the case. But again, the quote does not contain a chain of tile exclusion or any other specific exclusion involving this project and we recognize the Atlantic records indemnification letter in the Warner contract to be valid. Please note we have not yet cleared the title, as a title report and legal opinion has not been received to date.

Please let me know if you have any further questions.

Best,
Joann

Alan,

The Errors & Omissions' for "Amazing Grace" is bound for the period of 7/21/2015 to 7/21/2018. Here's a copy of the signed binder for your files.

Once the following subjectivities have been satisfactorily met, the underwriter will issue the policy:

1. Currently signed and dated application, by July 29, 2015 – attached application was not signed.

2. Per Q# 22 on the application, confirmation that:

1) the stock shot" of Los Angeles which comes from Corbis has been finalized and all rights obtained
2) the publishing of some songs you mention have yet to be negotiated have all been finalized and all music rights have been obtained.

Upon receipt and review of this we can consider removing the exclusion.

Thank you

Steve-

As we discussed now on the phone, below are my email correspondences re: Sydney Pollack's attorney Barry Tyerman. i have searched my files in an effort to give a complete view. You should also speak with Tom McGuire about his meetings/conversations with Barry Tyerman.

Some context (and please ask any questions):

Barry Tyerman is the attorney for Sydney Pollack (Mr. Pollack passed away in May, 2008). Since I received quitclaim of the project from Warner Bros. in 2007, out of respect for the late Mr. Pollack, I have kept Mr. Tyerman updated on the film's progress. I have, as you can see below, asked Mr. Tyerman what he would consider for additional payment for Mr. Pollack's heirs. Mr. Tyerman has, in these eight years, not given me an answer.

Prior to the Telluride Film Festival in September, 2015, Mr. Tyerman asked me to remove Mr. Pollack's credit from the film, I did so.

Over the years, I have repeatedly provided Mr. Tyerman with the following as proof of Warners' payment:

http://alsrecordsandtapes.com/amazinglaw/wbdocs/wb%20legal%20pollack%20payment.pdf

I have discussed the issue of Mr. Pollack and Mr. Tyerman's claim on behalf of Mr. Pollack with both Dan Furie, Warner Bros . Pictures, Business Affairs, and the President, Worldwide Business Affairs, Warner Bros. Pictures Steven S. Spira.

Warners has provided me all documents re: Sydney Pollack.

Mr. Tyerman has claimed that there may be a previous 1997 contract with Warners. Mr. Tyerman was asked by Tom McGuire a month or so ago about the contract. Mr. Tyerman has not provided the contract. Warners has no copy of the agreement Mr. Tyerman talked of.

Both Mr. Spira and Mr. Furie advised Mr. Tyerman that, according to all known documents, Mr. Pollack is not owed anything further.

Mr. Spira said to me privately, "Mr. Tyerman asked us for money on this. I told him he had no cause. He is on a fishing expedition."

Other docs. with Sydney Pollack can be found at the web site (http://alsrecordsandtapes.com/amazinglaw/wbdocs/), including a general release for Mr. Pollack's image/likeness (which Mr. Pollack and his crew wrote):

http://alsrecordsandtapes.com/amazinglaw/wbdocs/amazing%20releases%20church%20choir.pdfa

thank you.

blank. I suggested that he may have done business through a loan out company, and that it could conceivably be filed under the company name. She researched his company “Sanford Production” today and found nothing on Amazing Grace. I also suggested that the doc could be traced through the disbursement of his fee. But as with most things, records of that end of the transaction seem to be lost to history. This circles back to the matter of how we deal with Sydney. Alan Wertheimer says that Syd’s lawyer Barry Tyreman was around and remembers the transaction. Chances are he has the doc, if it exists. I haven’t told Alan that we acquired the film because we have our hands full with Aretha. Need to discuss.

Tom,

I understand from Warners that you are representing Mr. Elliott and this project, which frankly surprises me given the attitude and disregard for contractual and creative rights he has consistently and routinely exhibited. Contrary to Mr. Elliott’s assertion he has no rights to either the name, likeness, biography or results and proceeds of services of Sydney Pollack or Aretha Franklin (among other essential clearances) and he is about to step off the deepest darkest elevator shaft of his life.

I say put those arguments to the side and lets see what he wants. There isnt really any money. A share of the back end, I would say ok, depending on the amount. And the right to use his name and likeness in the film and in promo/advertising. He should have directing credit, but that will depend on the DGA. You can give his estate a consultation right, or even an approval right, over the use of his image in the film and advertising—as long as there is an agreement that they are supporting the release, they will not be obstructionist, I don't believe.

Thanks Tom. I realize that you may not have been made privy to all of the agreements and other commitments your client has made over the years with respect to this project and then "reconsidered". I believe you will ultimately be made aware that the "standstill" agreement with Ms. Franklin was in fact entered into, among others. It goes without saying that I have the utmost respect for you and WME and I'm sure that you and your agency would not want to be party to the violation of these arrangements.

And as to direct communications with our clients, without debating your ethical analysis, our clients have requested that there be no direct communication and that everything be routed through our offices.

As to the use of Mr. Pollack's name and image, Warners will confirm to you that they did not purport to grant any such rights and, whatever his legal position, Mr. Elliott has volunteered to remove Mr. Pollack's unauthorized and inappropriate credit. Perhaps this is another commitment which he is "reconsidering?

Thank you. Barry

Barry,

I will pass this email on. However, two observations:

1. I am unaware of any "standstill" agreement or other similar agreement that Alan or his production has entered into with Ms. Franklin. I would be happy to be on a call with you and/or her representative(s) to confirm that.
2. I do not believe it is against any ethical laws for Alan to speak directly to anyone involved in this matter. I will advise him that you do not want him to speak to Rachel or any other member of the family.

In addition, I do not know myself that Alan offered to take Mr. Pollack's name off the film, either generally or in the manner in which you suggest. I am passing your email on to Alan.

Tom,

I know that we have been missing each other. On the chance that it may take some time to connect, please advise your client that, without prejudice, the successors to the rights of Sydney Pollack accept his suggestion to take Mr. Pollack's name off the film, including for the proposed screenings at Toronto. Please have him cease any further use of Mr. Pollack's name, performance or image and, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, delete any and all visual or other references to Mr. Pollack in and in connection with the film.

I understand that quite provocatively Mr. Elliott has flagrantly breached a "standstill" agreement entered into with or on behalf of Aretha Franklin. Clearly not a positive move or one likely to encourage cooperation from anyone. I have been put in contact with her representatives.

Nothing contained herein or our previous correspondence shall be construed as a waiver of any of our clients' rights, positions or remedies, all of which are expressly reserved.

Tom,

Just as a reminder, this is the status quo.

No rights have been granted to use the name, likeness, performance or biography of Sydney Pollack in connection with this project and Mr. Elliott specifically agreed to take Mr. Pollack's name off the film, of course without prejudice to our other rights, positions and remedies. Anyone acting inconsistently with this will be held accountable.

And clearly despite your encouragement and what I thought was our understanding, Mr. Elliott continues to pester friends, family and professional colleagues of our late client. Please make sure that this is discontinued.

Thank you. Barry

I am not talking about people soliciting Alan, but rather the reverse including, for example, his contacting Mr. Pollack's longtime assistant asking her what credit she would like!

As to our discussions, my recollection is that you were talking to Arnold Reed attempting to make a deal for Ms. Franklin's rights, none of which to our knowledge have been granted to date. If you are able to make a mutually acceptable arrangement you were then going to come to us to attempt to make a deal for Mr. Pollack's rights, absolutely none of which have been granted.

In the interim, wherever the project may go, lawfully or unlawfully, it may not go with the use of any Mr. Pollack's rights and Mr. Elliott specifically committed to take his name off the film, which we have accepted. Please confirm that this has been implemented and that there shall not be any inference in any discussions with any third parties that this is anything but a project not authorized by or on behalf of Sydney Pollack.

Thank you. Barry

Do you also want Alan to remove the produced by credit?

To: Barry Tyerman <BTyerman@jtwamm.com>

Barry: I am one of the attorneys working with Alan Elliott on the Aretha Franklin concert film project. I have been asked by our group to discuss with you the claim that you are making in reference to your client, the Estate of Sidney Pollack. I know this is not an opportune day to engage you, and you might feel that you have fully explained your position several times before. However, I come to you seeking some guidance as to the nature and validity of your claim. I have reviewed the emails you have written to Tom McGuire and Alan Elliott. I know also that at your request the Pollack name has been removed from the movie. I have studied the Quit Claim Deed from Warner Bros., and the existing paperwork concerning Mr. Pollack's payment for the work he performed on this project. I want to accord you every respect, and I feel that there must be something in your possession that we have not seen. It would be of genuine assistance to all of us if you could provide the basis for your claim with the documentation you are relying on. I assure you I will give this matter the priority it deserves. As we all say on occasion, time is of the essence. Cordially, Todd

Since you have ignored our efforts to address this situation amicably we have no recourse but to engage with Warner Bros., the directors Guild of America and the representatives of Ms. Aretha Franklin and the owners of the underlying musical and other materials to shut down your rogue activities. Presumably you have and will advise the representatives of the Toronto and will advise the representatives of the Toronto International Film Festival of the serious claims of various interested parties and the accountability of the Festival and all other parties in the chain of any unlawful exploitation of these rights. Please confirm that the Festival has been so advised.

Not only would exhibition of the film violate various statutory and common law rights of our clients, but also constitute a serious and direct violation of the provisions of the applicable agreements of the Directors Guild of America including relating to creative rights and credits and formal grievances are being initiated.

The foregoing obviously is not a complete exposition of the claims against you and any and all other parties participating in the unlawful exploitation of these rights and all rights, positions and remedies are expressly reserved.

july 14, 2015

What you have sent me purports to be an internal Warner Bros. memorandum, not anything like a contract. Neither Sydney nor any representative is even copied on this. If this is what you are relying on for rights, your reliance obviously is wildly unjustified. All rights, positions and remedies reserved. Barry

If you will not voluntarily withdraw any exhibition of the film, including in Toronto, we will be required to take our own legal will measures. We are specifically instructed to protect the Sydney Pollack name and not permit its use without authorization nor without the rights of Aretha Franklin being addressed. No matter how good you may believe the film is (not surprising given Sydney's involvement, but it is a misrepresentation to say the completed film was misrepresentation to say the completed film was "Directed By" him), we will not permit you to gloss over these serious legal issues.

All rights, positions and remedies reserved. Barry

june 16, 2015

With due respect Sydney Pollack has ultimate rights to this film and, as his longtime attorney and Trustee for his beneficiaries, I hereby instruct you to cease and desist immediately from any further use of his name on or in connection with this project. You and any other person or entity violating his rights will be held fully accountable. Barry

I am not interested in "opening any cans of worms". Only to protect the rights of Sydney Pollack, both economic and creative. And to make sure that his work is not exploited without those issues being addressed and not over the legal or other objections of Aretha Franklin. He would never have countenanced that and was very clear that her rights needed to be addressed before this work could be exploited in any manner. If you have contracts to establish that she has given that permission, it is imperative that those be shared urgently (as well as any documentation of any arrangements with Sydney Pollack).

To be clear, you have no rights to utilize any of the rights of Sydney Pollack, including his name (and certainly not to credit this film as being "Directed by Pollack"), without further written agreement from his successors.

All of this is not exhaustive and is without prejudice to the other rights, positions and remedies of Mr. Pollack's successors.

successors.

Sydney was not correct. there is a contract with Aretha and warner 7arts.

(ps Sydney also failed to mention that the reason the film never got made was because he couldn't sync up the visuals the audio! a small... but important detail.)

I am very hopeful… That Aretha will have a come to Jesus moment at some point… And we are in constant contact… But I am relying on the contract.

thank you.

hey barry

as John Calley quite clearly yelled at me at a certain point… "Do you think I would send Sydney Pollack to go film Aretha Franklin if there wasn't a release?!"

the answer is:

there is.

Aretha signed a personal service contract with warner 7 arts (The film company) which wb and Sydney relied upon to make the film.

the man whose responsibility it was to secure all releases for filming, joe Boyd, (joe was director of film music at wb in 1972) has signed a letter re-stating these facts.

as jerry wexler always implored me to do, "check what's in the contract!" (we did, and that's what we are relying upon.)

thank you.

In your response you did not address the issue of the Aretha Franklin rights. Have you made an arrangement with her? And is there a deal with the record label? There is absolutely no way that the Sydney Pollack rights will be cleared, including any possibility of the film being attributed to him (the whole notion of "Directed by Sydney Pollack" is an issue), unless and until all of this has been worked through and fully documented.

Given the various items to be resolved, all rights, positions and remedies are expressly reserved.

as discussed I am taking the film to premiere at telluride.

as of now I am planning on:

directed by Sydney pollack

produced by Sydney pollack and alan Elliott

if the girls have any issues or concerns, please have them contact me. I will try to do what they feel is appropriate re credits.

and if there's any documentation or... anything else that I should know about re: the iteration of the project Sydney and I started on in 2007... or anything from the passed (I'd be very interested to see the 1997 file!) please send it over and let's discuss.

hope this finds you well.

thank you.

I reviewed my file on the project and was reminded that in 1997 we were discussing a possible deal with Warner Bros. but it was not ever completed or executed. The broad strokes were that Warners had proposed a $150,000 fee and 50% of the net to Sydney Pollack but we responded that Sydney was obviously a “1st dollar gross” participant and therefore a split of traditional net profits would not work. We had also discussed at the time a direct soundtrack album royalty from Warners on the presumed rerelease of the Aretha Franklin record project and a greater share of home video.

We would also need to discuss and agree how Sydney's work would be credited; given that tragically he was not around to complete the film, simply billing this as "Directed by Sydney Pollack" would be potentially misleading and inappropriate. Prior to any public exhibition I would expect you to extend the courtesy to Mr. Pollack's heirs of their seeing the film and having the right to comment.

And finally have you "made peace" with Aretha Franklin? Sydney clearly would not countenance the film being released in any way without her creative and economic rights and interests being taken into account.

I look forward to your thoughts as a priority.

Sydney obviously produced and directed the original production and no rights were granted to anyone in the results and proceeds of those services. As a result, the film may not be commercially or otherwise exploited in any manner whatsoever unless and until a full and complete agreement is negotiated for those rights, which would include financial arrangements as well as appropriate approvals and controls on the part of Sydney's heirs.

Where are you on the project overall? And specifically where are you with Aretha Franklin?

You will recall our discussions and correspondence a number of years back concerning this project. At that time it was understood and documented that the project would not proceed unless and until we discussed and agreed mutually acceptable economic and other terms for the Sydney Pollack rights. Also, as we discussed, this would all be conditional on your clearing the Aretha Franklin rights, possibly among other individuals appearing in the film and/or on the soundtrack.

Our curiosity was piqued by the attached article which was forwarded to us. Can you please give me an update as to where you are on all this? Thanks. Barry

Hello Alan. Donna Ostroff from Sydney Pollack's office has relayed that Mr. Pollack has authorized Barry to release the Amazing Grace legal file to Alan Elliott or to me. I'd like to arrange to stop by the office, or if it's more convenient for Barry, have the file sent to my office. WHY DOESN'T ARETHA PAY HER BILLS?
THE WORLD KNOWS FRANKLIN IS RICH, FAMOUS, A GREAT SINGER, A DETROIT ICON. BUT BAD CREDIT IS TARNISHING HER GOLDEN LUSTER.

Byline/Affiliation:
DAVID ZEMAN, BRIAN MCCOLLUM AND L.L. BRASIER
Free Press Staff Writers

PubDate: Monday, 2/15/1999

Aretha Franklin has won more Grammys than any woman and was among the first inductees into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame. She owns grand homes in Detroit's posh suburbs and has earned millions from recordings, concerts, films and book contracts.

So why won't she pay her plumber?

Or her florist? Or, for that matter, her caterer, dentists, accountants, lawyers, songwriter, music arranger, moving company, landlords, dressmaker, limo drivers, tax collectors, landscaper, home inspector or even the guardian for her mentally ill son?

Since 1988, more than 30 lawsuits have been filed against Franklin in Oakland and Wayne counties by people seeking payment on bills. In most cases, Franklin paid only after being taken to court, most recently in January.

She and her aides tried to avoid some suits, turning away process servers from palatial homes in Bloomfield Hills and Bloomfield Township. Some creditors gave up. In other cases, Franklin ignored court judgments, forcing them to seek liens on homes or assets.

"I made it as easy for her as I could," Dean Pitcairn, former owner of Hilton Limousine in Ferndale, said of his suit to recoup nearly $1,900 from Franklin in 1991.

"I think it was the type of thing where they felt if they prolonged it long enough, we would forget about them. It just made me mad because everyone thinks she's a big hero, and she doesn't think twice about stepping on little people."

Franklin, her lawyers and publicists declined to be interviewed for this article, though one noted that Franklin gives generously to good causes.

And that's the puzzle: that a woman who regularly contributes her time and talents to charity, a beloved star with roots in gospel music, can show such disregard for those she owes money to.

While some creditors dismiss Franklin as a spoiled diva, those who have known her for years say the answer is more complicated -- that her lapses may be explained by a distrust of outsiders and deep personal loss.

"She's a wonderful artist who shouldn't be handling her own business, but she does," said Wayne County Circuit Judge Harvey Tennen, who represented Franklin in the 1980s and believes she is overwhelmed by her financial affairs.

"She just doesn't have time for it and she doesn't realize the kind of bad press she gets from not dealing with things like that. She needs a manager, she needs a lawyer, she needs professionals. But she usually doesn't talk to them until it's too late."

Franklin's reputation as a mercurial and enigmatic personality is a common, if hushed, topic in the music industry.

In 1988, Franklin failed to show up to sing for the second of singer George Michael's concerts at the Palace. Four years earlier, she backed out of a Broadway musical based on the life of Mahalia Jackson, for which a judge later ordered her to pay $230,000 to the show's producer.

Franklin has also sometimes chewed out musicians -- onstage -- during concerts when she felt their playing wasn't up to snuff.

Many industry insiders requested anonymity for this article because, despite her financial reputation, the music superstar is viewed in Detroit with honor, even reverence. Unlike many Detroiters who became celebrities and left even reverence. Unlike many Detroiters who became celebrities and left, Franklin has lived in the area nearly all her life and is beloved by its residents. It's that same hometown clout, some say, that has allowed her to ignore some debts.

"That was her style. She was above all the mundane activity of paying bills," said David Greenbaum, Franklin's accountant until 1992, when his firm sued Franklin. "She was an artist."

Possible reasons

Tennen and others say Franklin, 56, won't delegate her business affairs because she finds it difficult to trust others. It's a wariness, they say, born of a failed first marriage -- which reportedly included physical abuse -- and exposure to the music industry at a young age. "People have taken advantage of her her whole life," Tennen said.

Others say Franklin assumed more control of her finances after the loss of her father and brother, who served as protective and guiding figures in her career and business affairs.

The Rev. C.L. Franklin died in 1984 after several years in a coma. Aretha Franklin, who returned to Detroit from Los Angeles to be with him, is said to have spent more than $300,000 on his care. Brother-manager Cecil Franklin died in 1989.

"When the two people you trust and count on are gone, suddenly you're on your own," said Larry Robinson, owner of God's World record store in Detroit. "And suddenly you're working in areas you don't care much about. You love to sing -- not do taxes."

In 1996, Robinson's store helped sell tickets for a Christmas concert Franklin hosted at her late father's New Bethel Baptist Church. Because of a miscalculation by Franklin and church staff, about 1,000 extra tickets were sold -- at $17.50 each -- leaving a seething swarm of gospel lovers literally out in the cold.

Some people say such goof-ups can be blamed on the flimsy infrastructure of Franklin's camp, a loose-knit coterie of attorneys, publicists and personal coordinators who leave many details in Franklin's hands.

"She really needs somebody else to serve as a buffer," Robinson said. "She's not a bad person. But when you're trying to play every position on the team -- catching and throwing -- it's going to be rough."

Speculation over Franklin's failure to pay bills has become something of a parlor game among the people who have sued her. Her creditors are like a loosely constructed support group; they make condolence calls to new members and swap stories about efforts to collect from the singer.

Rather small amounts

It's not unusual for celebrities to be magnets for lawsuits from plaintiffs looking for a big payday. But the majority of cases against Franklin are for less than $4,000.

And in interviews with more than 20 people who have sued Franklin, some said they were reluctant plaintiffs. It was not merely the expense of litigation that bothered them. Manysaid they were fans of Franklin and admired her contributions to music and to Detroit.

Frank Winton, who owned Mark of Excellence Catering in Southfield, sued Franklin in 1988 over a $2,300 bill for four parties, including one for her birthday. He put off suing for months and hesitated to mention the debt when he saw her at social functions.

"She did a lot of charity work, and I didn't want to embarrass her," Winton said.

Other creditors waited years.

In 1994, Franklin booked seven rooms at the Westin Hotel in Detroit for a scholarship dinner. When her credit-card company wouldn't pay, the hotel sent invoices to Franklin.

In 1997 -- 28 months later -- the Westin sued. The hotel needed a judge's help to reach Franklin, who avoided a process server. She was later ordered to pay $1,068. She didn't. Westin tried in vain to seize Franklin's wages from Arista, her record label. A Westin lawyer declined to say if Westin ever collected.

Other creditors said their respect for Franklin dissolved when it became clear she would not pay.

"Hey, she should have to pay her bills like everyone else," said Bob Beutel of All Star Limousine in Royal Oak, which recently collected a $3,652 bill from last summer. Beutel said competitors warned him about Franklin. He said his own lawyer told him, "It's not a matter of if, it's just a matter of when she's going to stiff you."

So every time Franklin used All Star, the driver made her sign a contract promising that if her bill went to court she would pay All Star's legal fees. It did, and she did.

Even so, Beutel said, chasing old bills can wear on a small business.

"How'd you like to go two weeks without being paid? And now you have to bug people about money and they tell you, 'Hey, I'll give it to you next week,' and they don't?"

Discounts, too

Some merchants felt betrayed after babying Franklin with sweet deals, liberal credit or rushed deliveries.

"We gave her a great price," said Bruce Bolton of Breath of Spring Florist in Bloomfield Hills, which sued over $1,111 for flowers sent to a 1995 Christmas party.

"Sometimes, you write these things off," he said. "But I think I just felt

In 1988, Orville Brown of Flatrock Bagging rushed a special order of white sand to her swimming pool for a luau. His lawyer said Brown also gave the singer a discount. Invoices were mailed later, with no response.

"Flatrock Bagging is a family-owned deal," said the attorney, Murdoch Hertzog. "This guy is just good as gold. Here he went out of his way to help her make a fine, wonderful event -- and he got stuck."

And then there is attorney Suzanne Dreifus, who in 1989 was appointed guardian for Franklin's adult son, Clarence, a chronic paranoid schizophrenic. Two years later, when Franklin fell more than $10,000 behind in paying Dreifus for finding foster homes for her son, visiting him and arranging for his medical care, Dreifus sued.

"Her attorney simply said to me, 'She's not going to pay you,' " Dreifus recalled. Dreifus called her own lawyer. "I told him if they come up with 10 cents less, don't even call me.... It was a matter of principle."

But the Aretha Franklin creditors describe is not the woman Tennen, her former lawyer, knows.

Tennen was introduced to Franklin in the early 1980s by her brother,Cecil.

When Franklin asked Tennen to represent her, he told her he had never represented an entertainer.

"So she bought two sets of encyclopedias on entertainment law and gave one to me," Tennen said. "And she said to me, 'We'll learn together, Harvey.' "

"I was always honored to represent her," he said.

"On the other hand, she needed help."
